Latrobe High School

Once more the key unlocked the doors of high school to another golden year of learning, growing up and a better understanding of our world. There opportunity unfolded and students grasped for its benefits. There they learned and matured.

Learning Stems From Every-day Doing As Well As Books

Autumn leaves welcomed students as a fresh period of schooling began. Hushed by winter's snowflakes, studying became intense and meaningful to all. Then, in a flash, mid-term exams were over and signs of spring became evident. Learning grew harder with warm days and restless dreams. Almost too soon, school was dismissed. Summer can now be spent contemplating the fun-filled and worthwhile experiences in school.

FOREWORD

Scholars Attempt To Gain Knowledge By Using Available School Facilities

● PHILIP GOLDSTEIN and Winifred Schmucker consider the advantages of various colleges.

● DONNING GRADUATION gowns signifies new horizons for Catherine Biller and Paul Roman.

Gazing over the past school year, we remember all its classes, activities, laughter and tears as recorded in the pages of the 1959 Latrobean.

Seniors may not think of grades and courses but they have unforgetable memories of the highlights of their final high school year. The first football and basketball games brought excitement and laughter, the last brought seriousness and tears. Name cards and picture-exchanging were eagerly awaited and everyone was excited the day the long-awaited rings arrived.

Along with the seniors, underclassmen recall the scent of pine during the holidays, midnight oil burning before exams, entertaining special assemblies, couples in the hall, the "Eddie Duchin Story," bi-monthly publications of the High Post and, most of all, their friends. This foundation for happy and successful lives was built by learning to work together.

CLASSES

Stimulating mental curiosity and increasing knowledge and ability were classes of the Commercial, Scientific, Home Economics, Language, Vocational, Mathematics and Social Studies Departments.

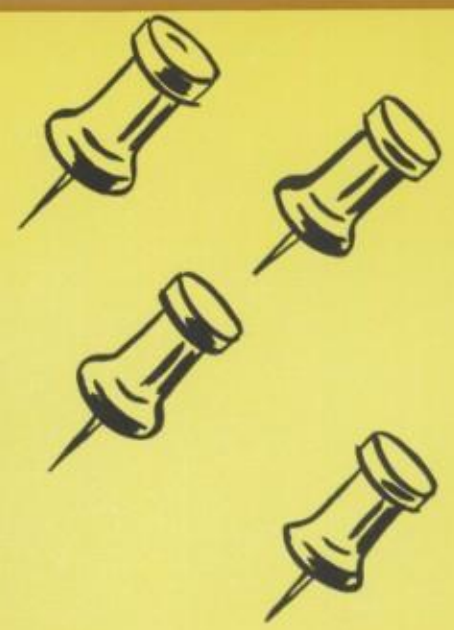
ACTIVITIES

Extra-curricular activities afforded students the chance to learn not only the skills of forensics, dramatics and music, but to learn leadership and gain new friends.

ATHLETICS

Developers ot sportsmanship and co-ordination, the athletic contests furnished recreation and competition through cross-country, football, basketball, wrestling, track, tennis and golf.

School Schedule Allots Time To Every Phase Of Learning



● UNDER THE direction of the Wildcat, Bob Martin, seniors rehearse football cheers for the final home game.

● MEMBERS OF the Commercial Department practice typing skills in preparation for entering the business world.

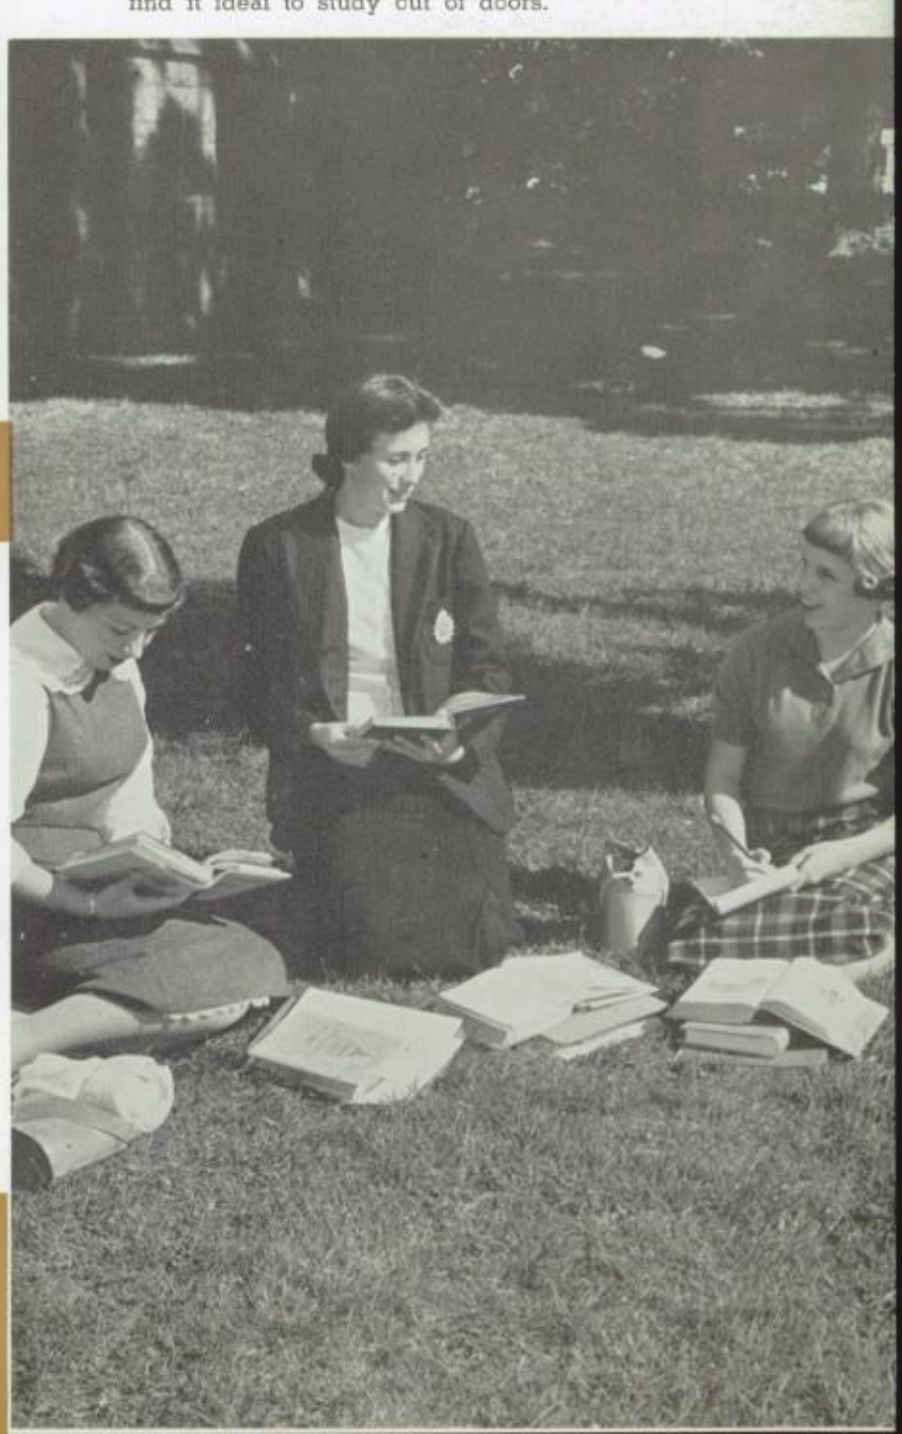
REFLECTIONS

Recollections Of Scholastic Term Provide
Thoughtful Memories For Years Ahead

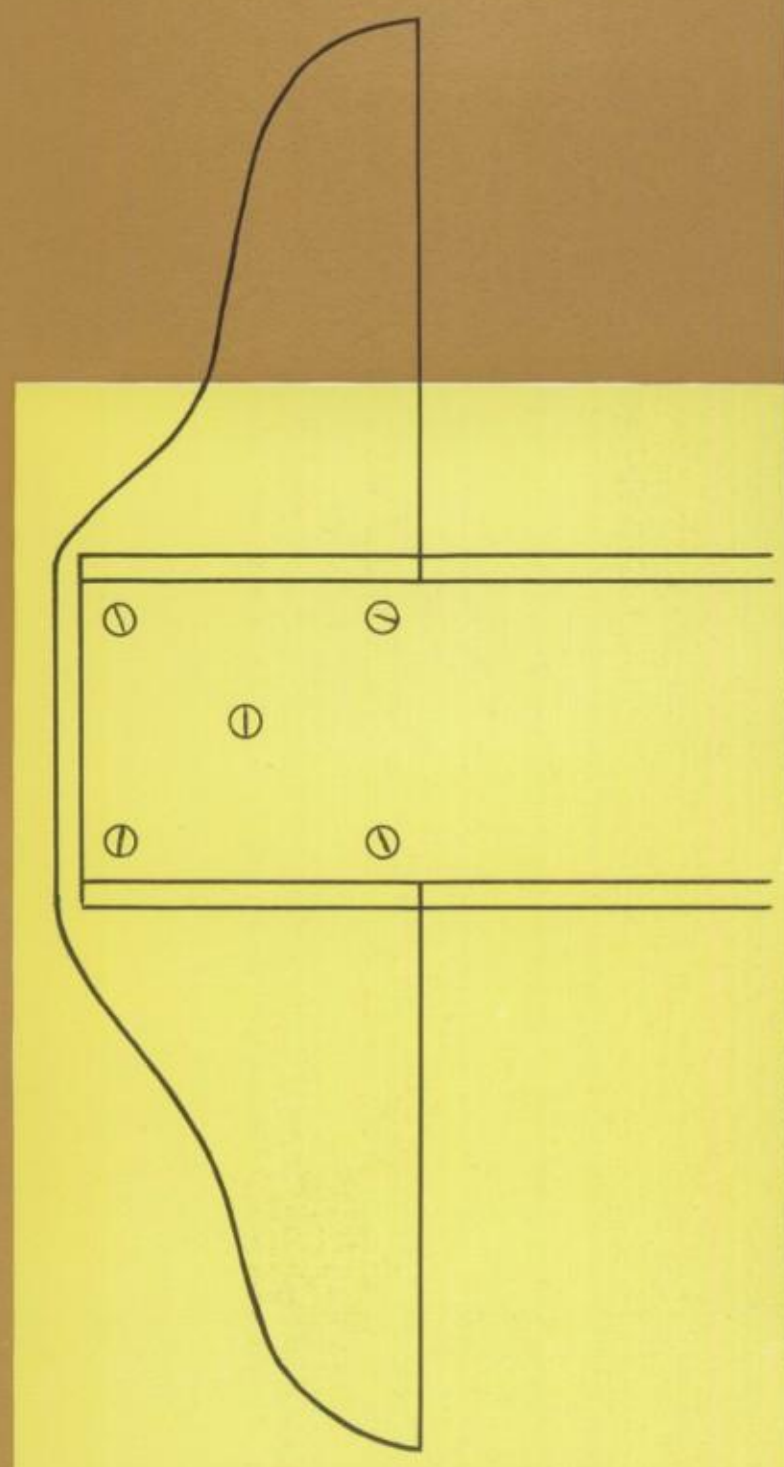
● SPRING WEATHER provides a welcomed atmosphere for Teddy Kattan, Tony Gebicki, Carol Mignogna and Marcia Guzik to talk over final exams.

Busy Students Retain Memorable Occasions

● RUTH MESSICH, Beverly Werner and Lydia Stumpf find it ideal to study out of doors.



Lingering strains of victory chants from athletic contests, dreamy Prom music and pleasant chatter from the Senior Tea are wonderful sounds which will long re-echo in the minds of all. Only in the carefree high school years do such gaiety and fun reign supreme.



Growth in academic capacities comes as students seek to achieve their highest goals. Pupils diligently work with the knowledge that every subject taken from each of the fields of study will benefit them throughout their lives.

ADMINISTRATION

Seven citizens serve their community as members of the Latrobe Board of Education. They endeavor to establish and develop the constructive policies that are distinguishing features of Latrobe's educational program.

Mr. J. Regis Kuhn presided in the role of president, while the position of vice-president was filled by Mr. Francis J. Harvey.

This year's members included Miss Sara McComb, Mr. H. Donald Benford, Mr. J. Regis Kuhn, Mr. Francis J. Harvey, Mr. Jacob Bendl, Dr. Jack H. Hamill and Mr. Samuel S. Rummel.

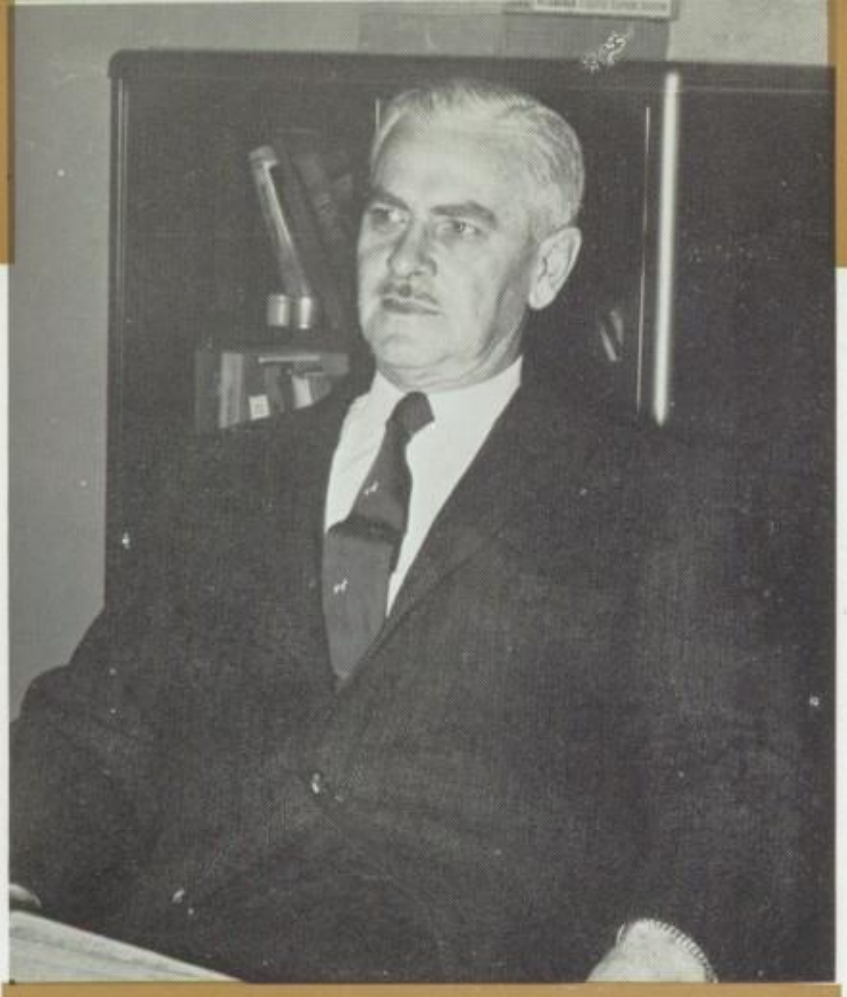
The board members were elected by Latrobe district voters. They worked with the Superintendent David A. Snyder to control the educational functions of the school system.

Miss Ruth Himler served as secretary to the school board. Miss Hedi McFeaters assists in aiding the superintendent by keeping school records in order and performing many other duties.

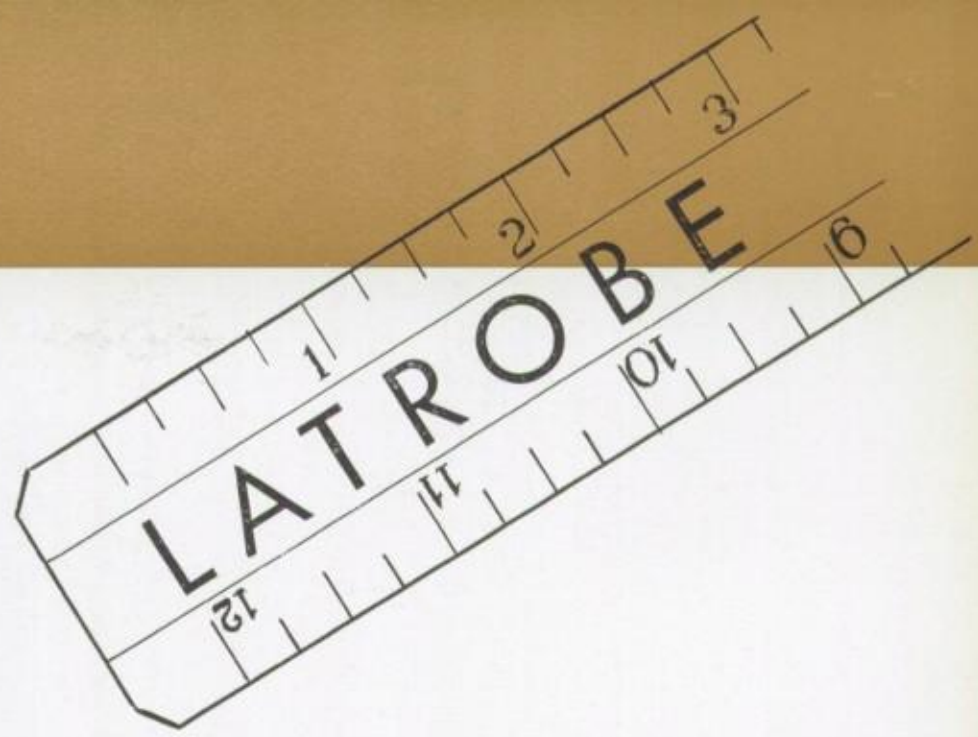
● SUPERINTENDENT OF Latrobe Public Schools David A. Snyder converses on the telephone.

Seated: Miss Sara McComb, Mr. J. Regis Kuhn, Mr. Francis Harvey.

Standing: Dr. Jack Hamill, Mr. H. Donald Benford, Mr. Jacob Bendl, Mr. Samuel Rummel.



● REVIEWING ACCOMPLISHMENTS of the past term, Principal Robert Crawford visualizes success for graduates.



Mr. Robert Crawford, principal of Latrobe High School, worked to provide the best possible education for students.

During the year, a number of Mr. Crawford's duties were making the school calendar of activities, approving exams and heading the faculty. Mr. William Yates, assistant principal, signed absentee slips, assigned schedules and made announcements.

Assisting the principal and assistant principal were two secretaries, Mrs. Betsy Tillman and Miss Barbara Kuhn, respectively. They aided by keeping school records in order, compiling schedules and performing many other duties.

The administration, through guidance and instruction to students, enabled the citizens of tomorrow to take their place in carefully selected professions.

● MR. WILLIAM YATES clarifies attendance records as part of his assistant principal duties.

● AT HER desk, Miss Hedi McFeaters prepares some final calculations.

● MISS RUTH Himler does detailed office work at the Administration building.

● MRS. BETSY Tillman works on schedules in the principal's office.

● TYPING REPORTS in the attendance office busies Miss Barbara Kuhn.

FACULTY

Instructors Provide Inspiration To Many Through Leadership

● MR. JAMES BEATTY, Miss Adeline Reeping and Miss Florence Gill discover that as club advisers they have much in common to discuss.

In addition to their regular teaching assignments, many Latrobe High School instructors functioned as extra-curricular activities advisers.

Problems of Democracy teacher, Mr. James R. Beatty, counseled the National Honor Society, the Student Council and the Student Service. Mr. William Garrison, P. of D. instructor, served as faculty manager and was a member of the Guidance Committee.

In addition to enlightening freshmen Civics pupils, Mr. George Fabry served to educate Spanish II groups. He acted as assistant football coach and served on the Guidance Committee. During the year, Mr. Creed Westfall helped students in their further understanding of Civics. He sponsored and trained the varsity wrestling squad.

Mr. George Rise, who conducted American History classes throughout the school term, aided with Commencement activities and assisted with problems confronting the Guidance Committee. Co-ordinator of the Moving-Up Day ceremonies, Mrs. Eleanor Gadd taught sophomore World History classes and assisted debate finalists in preparing their speeches.

Guidance Committee member, Mr. Wiley Hartman, helped junior American History pupils to understand that subject and co-advised the cheerleading squad. Mr. Charles Findley instructed World History classes. The varsity football team received Mr. Findley's coaching.

● COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT teachers Mr. Harold Stover and Mr. Mitchell Barron watch Miss Blanche Quick demonstrate the proper techniques of typing.

● THE TASK of publicizing school news is under the direction of Miss Mary Louise McBride, Mr. William Couchenour and Mr. Edwin Withrow.

Dramatics' Coaches Supervise Activities Of Class Thespians

● SENIOR LANGUAGE students Paul Roman, Ronald Tranquilla, Kathryn Rodkey and Peggy Koski depict past history with French and Spanish projects.

Mentor of the freshman basketball team and assistant football coach, Mr. Ray V. Wild, taught Civics to ninth grade classes. The adviser to the Freshman Class also tutored Commercial Math students.

Miss Florence Gill instructed commercial subjects, Typing I, Writing and Spelling and Shorthand I. She planned the activities of the Future Teachers of America Club. Mr. Mitchell Barron, another member of the Commercial Department, enabled students to comprehend General and Commercial Sales, Bookkeeping I and Junior Business Training.

The treasurer of the school's Activity Account, Mr. Robert Cook, explained the fundamentals of Bookkeeping I and II, instructed freshmen in Writing and Spelling, trained the varsity golf team and advised the Fire Patrol.

Office Practice, Commercial Geography and Law and Typing I teacher, Mr. Harold Stover, offered his help to both the Prom and Guidance Committees. Another Business Department instructor, Miss Blanche Quick, who drilled Typing I and II and Shorthand II aspirants, served as a member of the Junior-Senior Prom directing committee and the Guidance Committee.

Music Department director, Mr. Ronald Shurie, trained the Band, Boys' Chorus I and II, Girls' Chorus I and II, taught Music Theory

● MR. GEORGE KLIM admires the work of art students with Miss Jean Dibb and Mr. Harry Craig.

● GUIDANCE TEST marks are explained by Mrs. Mary Tovo to Mr. Creed Westfall and Mr. Ray V. Wild.

● SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS Mr. John Monchak, Mr. Richard Braun and Mr. Ralph Forquer review team statistics.

• OBTAINING INFORMATION from college handbooks to help pupils are Mr. Harold Bitner, Miss Virginia Daniels, Miss Evelyn Baxter and Miss Martha Osborne.

Mrs. Mary Alice Graham directed all girls' gym and health classes and sponsored girls' intramural athletics. Mrs. Graham assisted with the preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom. Director of boys' intramural athletics, Mr. Richard Braun, coached the varsity cross-country team and instructed all boys' health and physical education classes.

Miss Carol Jenkins kept the school library in order, assisted students and advised the Librarians' Club. Giving artistic instruction to any boy or girl requesting it was Mr. George Klim. Fourth Ward pupils, in addition to high school students, were under his direct supervision.

Available for counseling throughout all school days, Guidance Director William Gillespie arranged for vocational guidance for any desiring student. Mr. Gillespie coached the freshman football team and provided guest speakers for many assemblies and occupational career conferences.

Nine members of the faculty of Latrobe High School comprised the English Department. Miss Irene Mertz, who instructed English IV students, coached the senior orations and the commencement speakers for the first time.

The Senior Class adviser, Miss Martha Osborne, taught English III and IV classes. Miss Osborne coached the Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking contest and was a member of the Prom Committee. During his first year of teaching at Latrobe High School, Mr. Harry Craig enlightened English III pupils. He served as the head of the Dramatics Department.

English I and II instructor, Miss Louanne Love, prepared contestants for the Woman's Club Contest and aided with the activities of the Guidance Committee. Acting as the adviser to the school publications, "The High Post" and the "Latrobean," Mr. William R.

the adviserships for the Sophomore Class. During his first year of teaching, Mr. John Monchak instructed Biology, General Science and Guidance I and II classes. A former student at Latrobe High School, he acted as the coach for the junior varsity basketball squad.

The instructor of General Science and of one Chemistry class was Mr. Harry Graham. In addition, he acted as chairman of Moving-Up Day and filled the position of Ticket Manager. Mr. Ralph Forquer coached the varsity basketball squad and served on the Guidance Committee. During the year he enlightened students in General Science classes.

Instructing students in languages were Miss Adeline E. Reeping and Miss Evelyn Baxter. Miss Reeping instructed students in Latin I and II. She acted as the adviser for the Junior Classical League and the Readers' Group and served on the Guidance Committee. Spanish I and II and French I and II were taught by Miss Baxter. She served as faculty adviser for the Junior Class and Modern Language Club and acted as general chairman of the Prom Committee.

Five faculty members gave students a background in mathematics. Miss Lyda Hamilton served on both the Prom Committee and the Guidance Committee. In addition, she taught Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry and Trigonometry classes. Miss Mary Louise McBride instructed Algebra II. She trained Broadcasting I and II aspirants and advised the Broadcasting Department as part of her extra-curricular activities.

Algebra I, General Mathematics and Industrial Arithmetic I classes were taught by Mr. William Franks. Mr. Franks was a member of the Prom Committee and chairman of the Freshman Dance. The duties of freshman football coach and assistant track coach were those of Mr. David Dunn, who instructed General Math and Industrial Mathematics I and II.

Miss Barbara Ransel, who instructed English I and Algebra I students, coached the cheerleaders. Mrs. Mary Couchenour conducted speech therapy classes at the high school during a half day session each week.

Without the cooperation of members of the school faculty, projects such as the Junior-Senior Prom, clubs, contests and dramatic productions would have been impossible. All extra-curricular projects require time and effort on the part of some instructors.

Eight local physicians and a nurse comprised the medical staff of Latrobe High School while striving to keep every student in good physical condition.

Assisting Dr. J. Wiley Hartman, head school physician, were Dr. William Sipe, Dr. F. Clay Gibson, Dr. G. F. Nealon, Dr. Walter Berberich, Dr. Paul Mankovich, Dr. Thomas Sproch and Dr. M. A. Showalter, local dentist.

All junior and freshman students received physical check-ups at the local school clinic, located in the Second Ward School building. Mrs. Florence Young, school nurse for the Latrobe district, assisted the doctors during the administration of the physical exams by giving the eye and ear tests. The heart, chest, blood pressure and feet were included in the exam at the same time.

To find all physical defects of the students and to make them known to the parents was the primary purpose of the check-ups. The examinations were given during the first semester, in the morning sessions.

MEDICS

School Doctors, Dentist, Nurse Safeguard Standards Of Health

● FOUR MEMBERS of the school health board are Doctors J. Wiley Hartman, Walter Berberich, Thomas Sproch and G. F. Nealon.

● DR. PAUL Mankovich, Dr. F. Clay Gibson and Dr. William Sipe look over the health report for the school after the annual physical examinations.

● JACQUELINE DUNLAP, Ruth Ann Messich and Kathleen Guidos practice correct bandaging skills to prepare for student casualties.

● MAKING THE BED is one of the duties of health room attendants Kathy Yost and Audrey Knaus.

Student Attendants Aid Professions In Rendering Services

Under the supervision of Mrs. Florence Young, the health room has been operated by eight girls during the past year for the convenience of students.

Girls acting as health room attendants were on duty to aid the students during the eight periods. Kathleen Yost, Audrey Knaus, Ruth Messich and Jacqueline Dunlap were in charge of the morning sessions. The girls on duty in the afternoon periods were Kathleen Guidos, Sandra Tressler, Marian Crusan and Joyce Brasili.

Health room permits were required by the students in order to be admitted into the health room. The girls did not administer internal medication, but their duties were signing the permits, bandaging cuts or bruises, treating mild burns and making ill students comfortable.

Among her many duties, Mrs. Young was the nurse for the elementary grades as well as secondary pupils. She assisted with the yearly physical examinations at Second Ward School.

Students were advised by Mrs. Young concerning allergies, a rash or other defects. She made several visits to the high school weekly and was directly in charge of the health room.

● AFTER RECEIVING medical attention, a student has her health room permit signed by Marian Crusan.

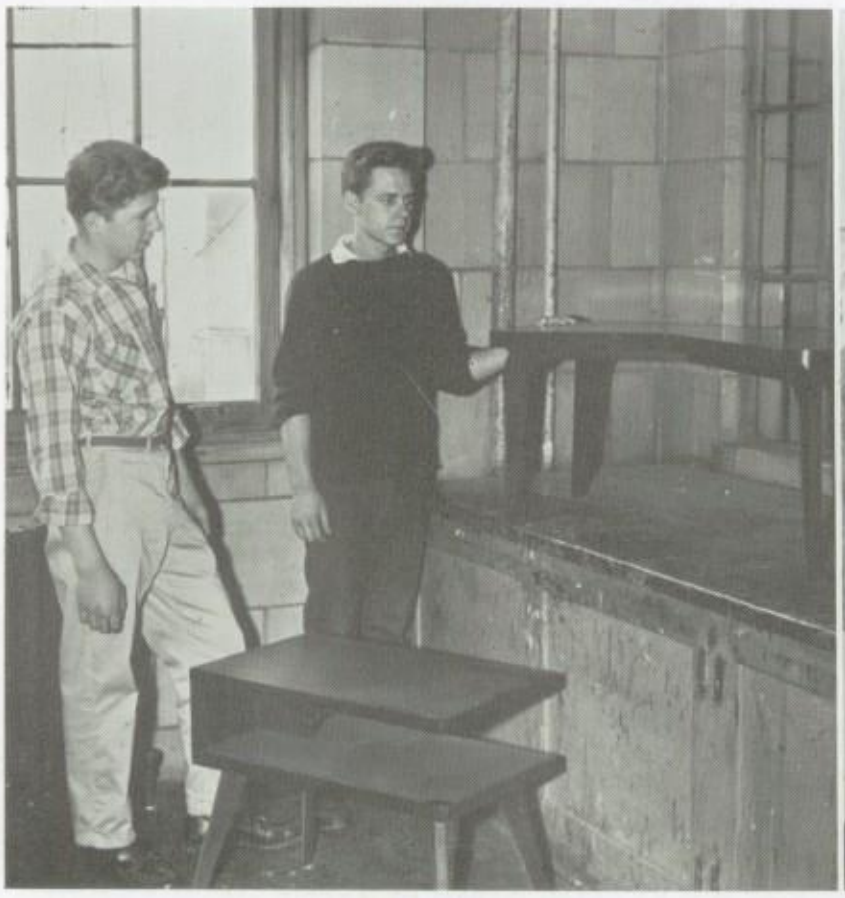
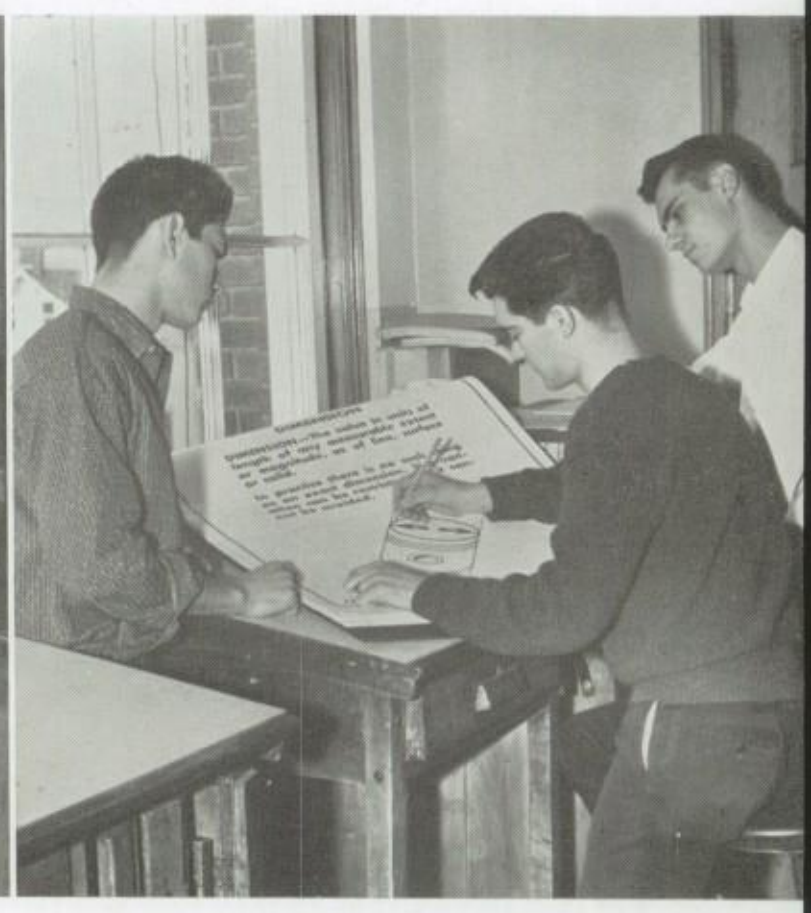
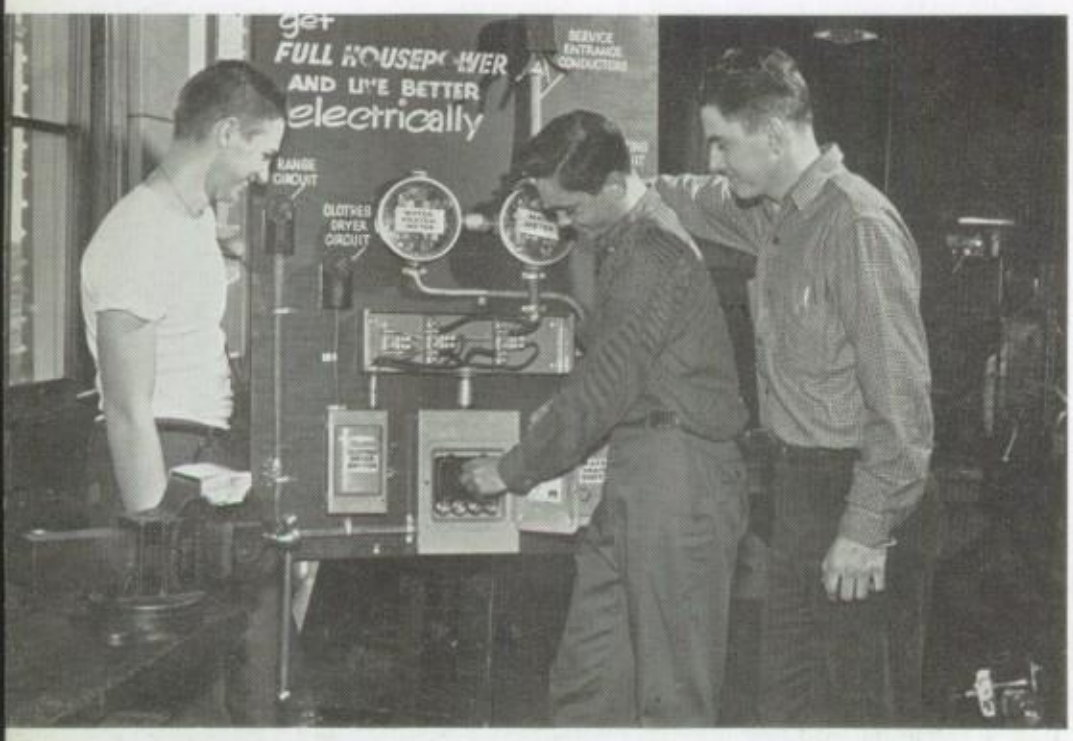
VOCATIONAL TRAINING



● THE FINISHED product of Robert Forish is admired by Jerry Shaffer in the junior wood shop.



● WILLIAM ENOS and Bernie Hudak observe Vincent Vacha's poster in mechanical drawing class.



● ELECTRICITY FUNDAMENTALS are explained and diagramed for Francis Fajt, Paul Kirtland and Henry Troy by a detailed project in the electric shop.

Vocational training acquired at Latrobe High School by interested students was wide and beneficial, and can be applied to immediate use upon graduation.

Knowledge in wood, machine and electric shops and drafting gave the boys an opportunity to search and discover to which field they were best suited.

Wood shop offered skill in making knicknacks, cedar chests, gun cabinets and tables. Boys in the electric shop learned to wire controls for motors and repair appliances and electrical equipment for the school.

Trainees in the machine shop were prepared to enter local industries as grinders and lathe operators. Preparatory study in drafting or mechanical drawing was obtained by the boys in this particular course, and the future draftsmen learned to make plans for industrial machines and products.

Annually, the Latrobe Lions' Club sponsors a contest to stimulate ambitions to greater height by offering medals and prizes for outstanding achievement. The products are also entered in the Ford Motor sponsored competition.

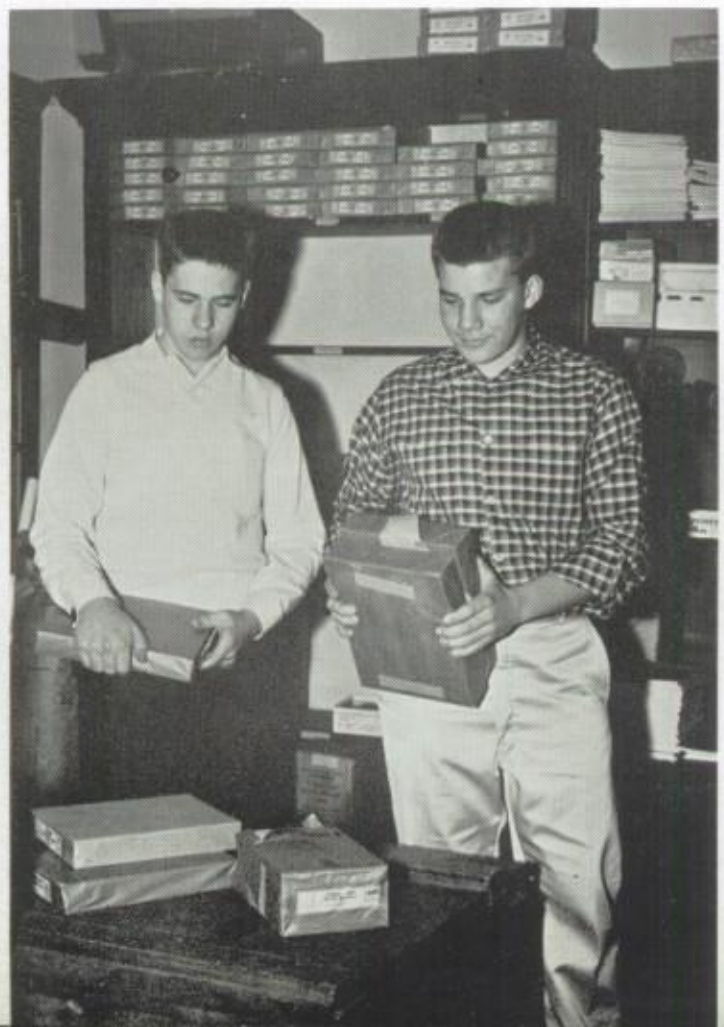
THROUGH THE CLASSROOMS

Weekly Speech Preparation Challenges Young Minds



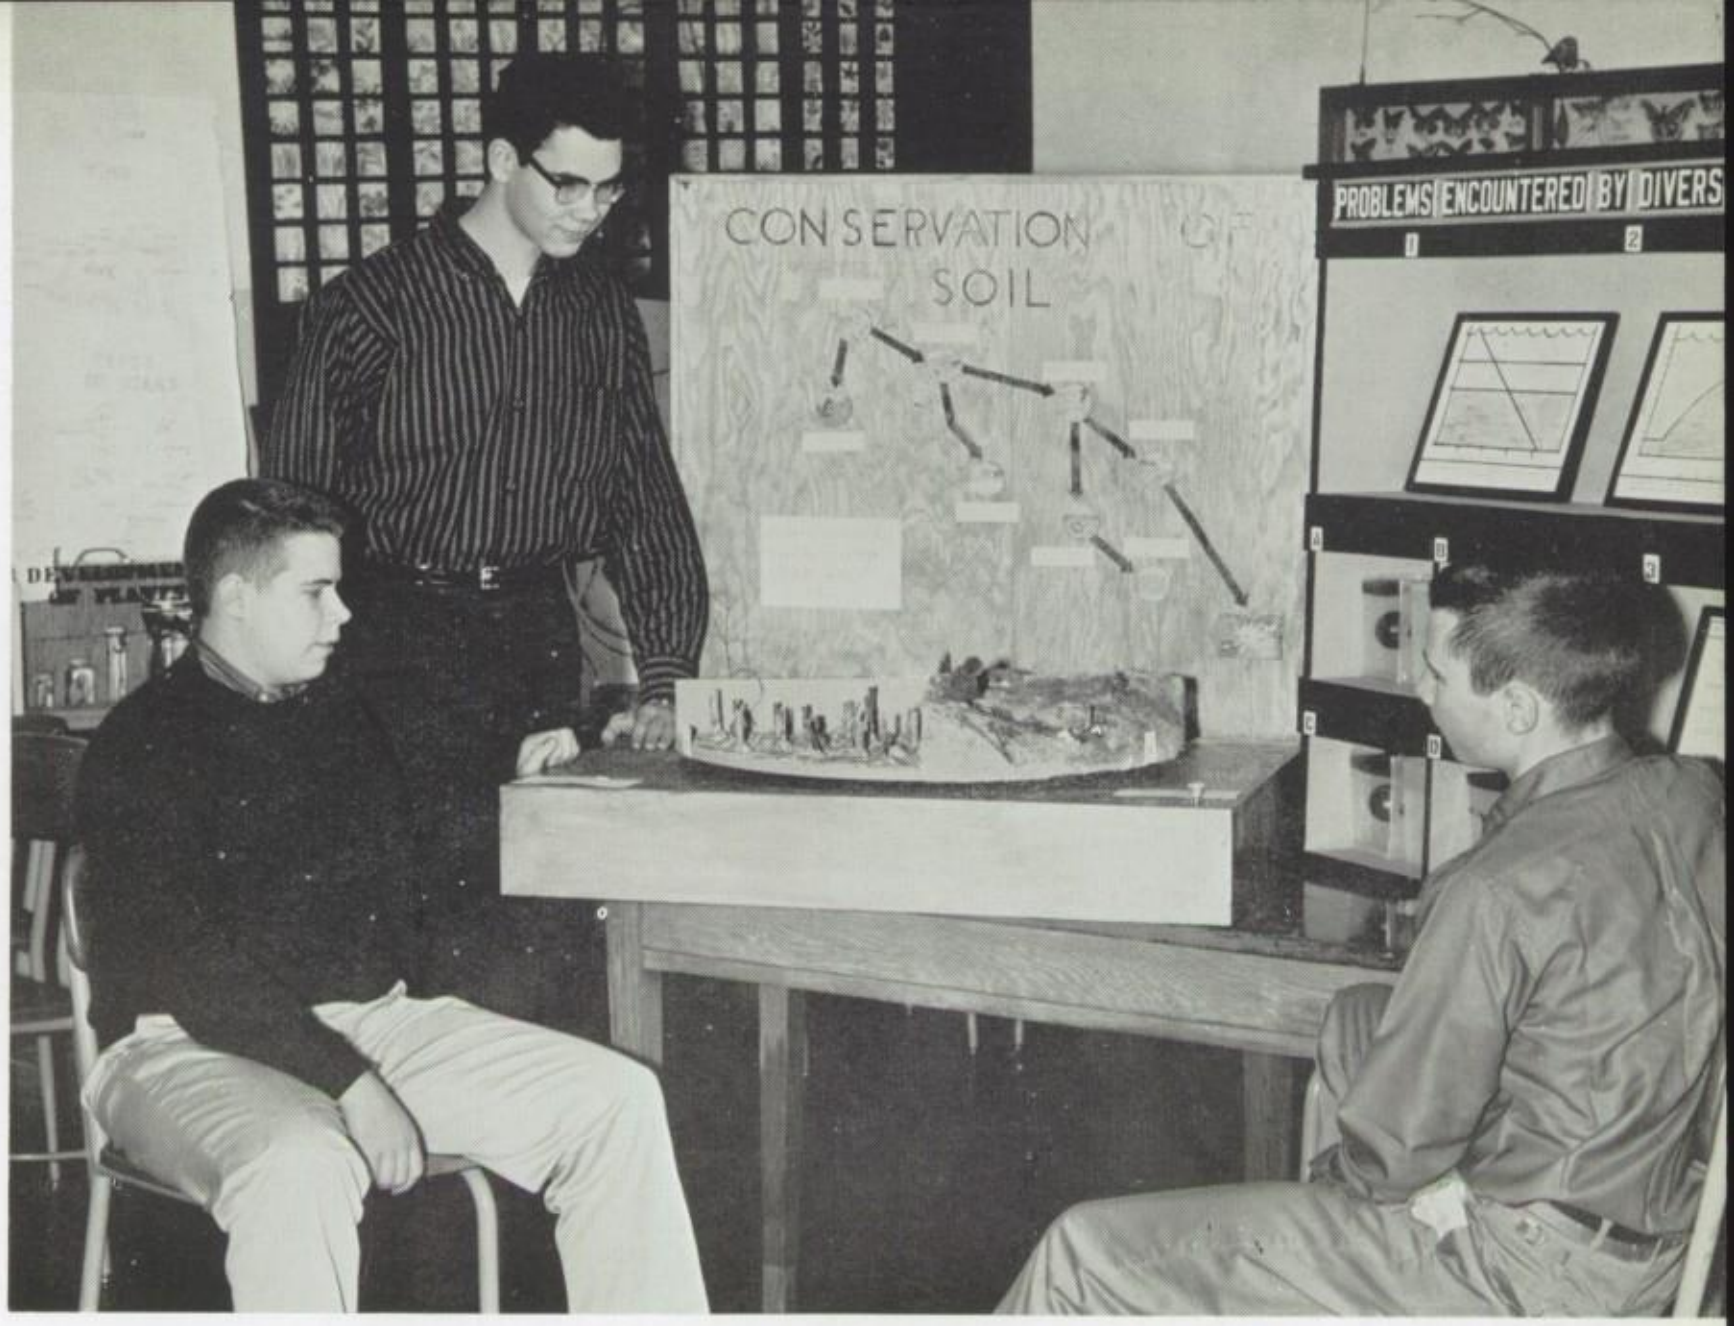
Throughout the year, Latrobe High School pupils in all courses of endeavor, College Preparatory A and C, General, Commercial, Homemaking and Trade, participated in innumerable classroom activities.

Courses in English found students both recalling summer fun and periscoping the future with weekly speeches. They studied Shakespeare's plays, "Hamlet," Macbeth," "Julius Caesar" and "The Merchant of Venice," poetry by Milton and Browning, Essays of Yesterday and Today and Short Stories.

Students of history learned of the government of Pennsylvania in Civics, the development of civilization in the world and the background of the American way of life.

Biology, related arts, writing and spelling, chemistry, bookkeeping, problems of democracy and trigonometry prepared pupils for their future activities, whether they planned to go on to school or into industry or other professions. Electives including journalism, broadcasting, art and chorus brought out talents in students while persons of all grades participated in gym and health classes.

The main objectives of all courses, to improve the education of all at Latrobe High School, was reached by all.



● BIOLOGY STUDENTS Thomas Hewitt and Joseph Doherty admire David Bonaker's project, as he explains the process and importance of soil conservation in our country.

Ambitious Workers Reap Success In Incessant Endeavors

● DALE HARRIS eyes the basket for an important shot during a gym class basketball game, as opponents and teammates await the outcome.

● LEARNING THE skill of shorthand in a second year class, Joyce Check and Sandra Aukerman find that practice is an essential of the course.

THE SENIORS

● PLANNING COMMENCEMENT activities are Senior Class officers Elizabeth Biller, Daniel Smith, John Doherty, Mary Jo Pagnanelli and Judith Carnahan as the school year draws to an end.

Leaving the last of four fruitful years in high school, the 1959 graduating class possesses memories never to be forgotten: painfully laboring over 6m - 3 = 7; rushing to class after gym classes; anxiously fingering the keys while waiting for the signal to type; restlessly counting those last few minutes before the bell, when the speaker before you is just about done; thrilling and chilling at the basketball game as we're leading 50-52 and there are two minutes left to play; counting the endless days before the Prom, only to open our eyes the next day and find it's all over and proudly representing your class in the annual All Class play.

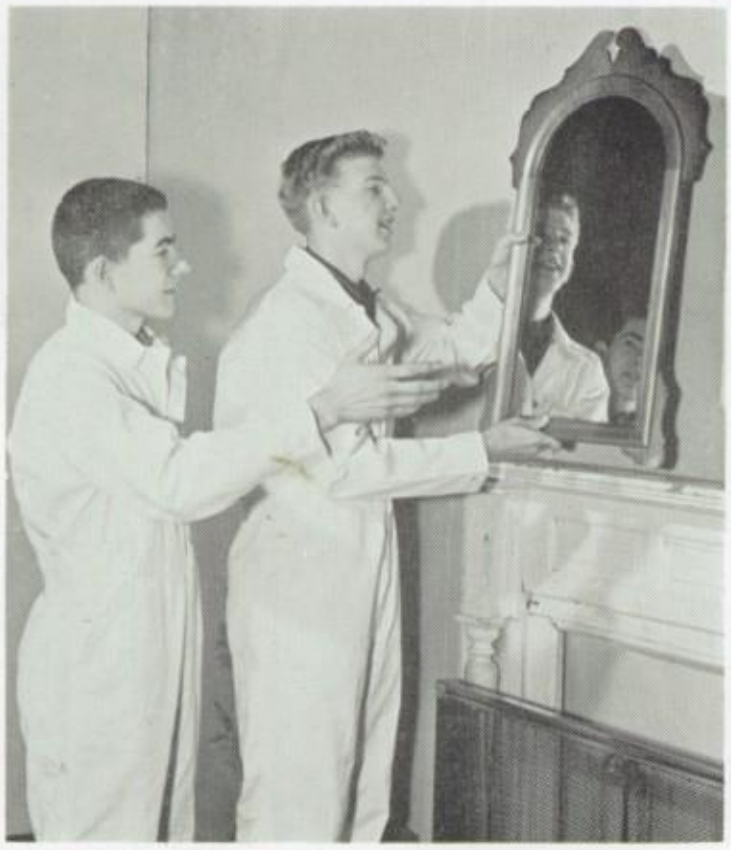
Numerous members of the Senior Class displayed their abilities in debates, the Woman's Club Contest, Kiwanis Club Extemporaneous Contest, orations, dramatics and musical presentations throughout the year.

Sporting events claimed the talents of seniors in fields of tennis, track, cross-country, basketball, football, wrestling and golf.

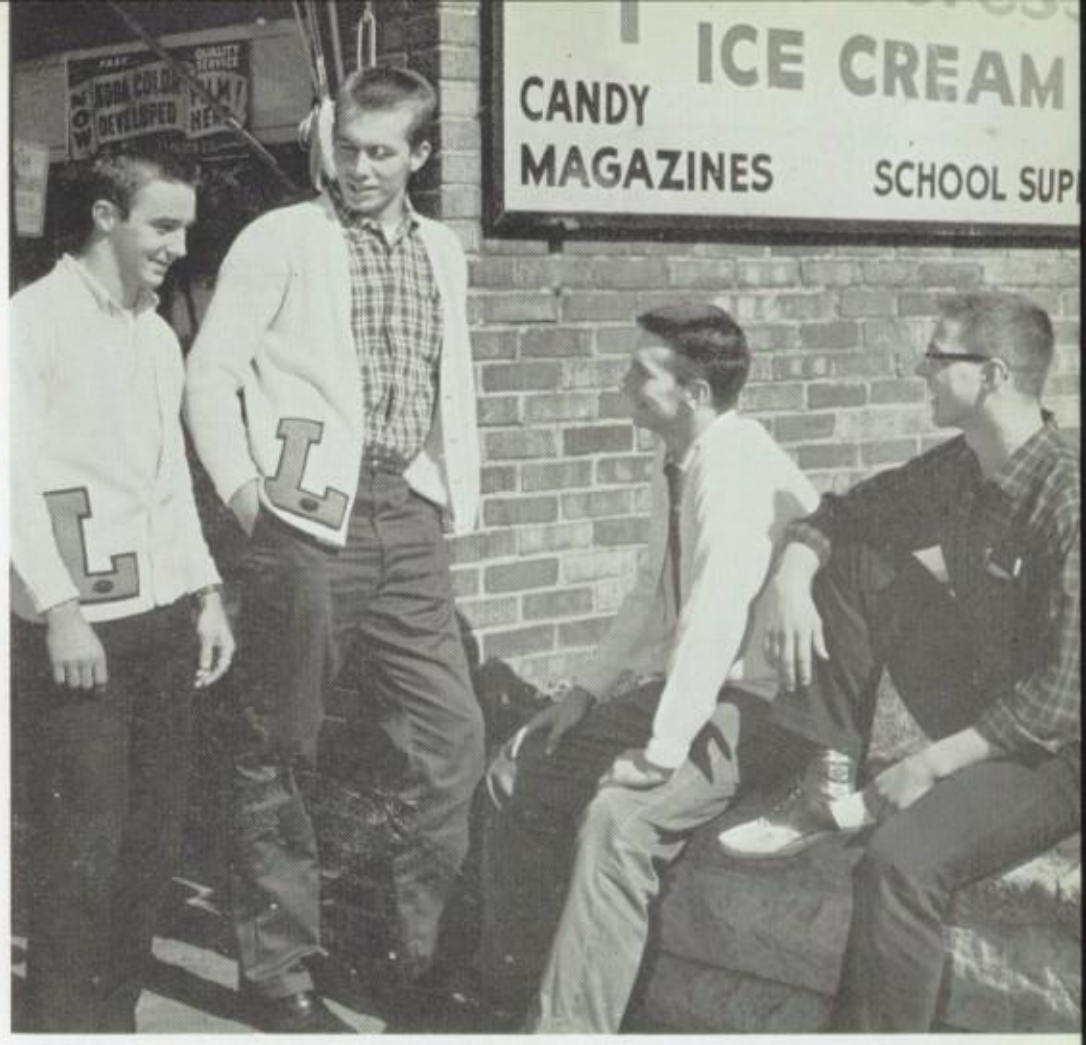
Officers of the graduating class elected during the initial part of the school term were John Doherty, president; Daniel Smith, vice-president; Elizabeth Biller, secretary; Mary Jo Pagnanelli, treasurer and Judith Carnahan, Student Council representative.

Probably to be cherished more than anything alse is the companionship that has grown up among the graduates. No storm can shake this strong root planted in the soil of honest efforts and friendly smiles.

Application Of Accumulated Knowledge Confronts Graduates



● STAGEHANDS, MYRON Badstibner and Conrad Stumpf, put finishing touches on a play set.



● NOONTIME OFFERS an opportunity for Kenneth Myers, Henry Rodgers, John Sanderson and Donald Kessler to talk about football.

JUNIORS

● CLASS OFFICERS Richard Markovich, Sandra Aukerman, Cornelius Dudzinsky and Pamela Johnston collaborate on plans for the prom with secretary Diane Kurtz recording.

After the experiences of the first exciting year as upperclassmen, the juniors now face the challenge of assuming the burden of leadership which will be encountered as seniors.

To lead the class in the year's activities, the juniors elected Cornelius Dudzinsky president. Assisting him were Richard Markovich, vice-president, and Pamela Johnston, secretary. Diane Kurtz managed the class finances, while Sandra Aukerman served as Student Council representative. Aiding the juniors throughout the year was Miss Evelyn Baxter, class adviser.

In addition to academic achievements, the class of 1960 participated in extra-curricular activities. Several juniors earned positions on the football, basketball and other athletic teams.

Musically minded students performed in the school band, orchestra and choruses, as well as participating in County and District affairs. The thespians of the class produced the Junior Class play and seven classmates appeared in "Strictly Formal," the All Class play.

Forensic season offered debating, extemporaneous speaking, poetry, declamations and Shakespeare reading to the interest of many, while others preferred the challenge of contest essays. The annual Junior-Senior prom, as the eleventh graders hosted their elder classmates, was the big social event of the year.

On Moving-up Day, as the class stepped forward into the shoes of senior responsibility, members can gaze back over three busy, fun-filled years of preparation for their new position.

SOPHOMORES

With their green year in the past, many members of the Sophomore Class adventured into numerous school activities, both educational and extra-curricular.

Throughout the year, the class was guided by Joseph Doherty, president; Denise Zappone, vice-president; Bernadette Krempasky, secretary; Winifred Noel, treasurer, and Robert Shrum, Student Council representative. Miss Virginia Daniels acted as class adviser.

The sophomores proved versatile by having representatives in all fields of endeavors. Marilyn Ewing copped a role in the All Class play, and many of her fellow classmates aided in the production as committee members.

The tenth graders were also prominent in debates, the extemporaneous speaking contest, declamations, Shakespeare and poetry reading contests. The musical department received support from the Sophomore Class as students rendered vast amounts of time required to be members of the Band. Four sophomores played in the school Orchestra.

In the athletic field, the class had many members appearing in all sporting events. One sophomore boy, James Ruffner, was the recipient of a football letter. Four tenth grade majorettes appeared regularly with the band, and five class members were cheerleaders.

This year brought the class closer to being upperclassmen. As the sophomores advance to upper class berths, they can think back to their many worthwhile experiences in gaining knowledge, making friendships and preparing for the future. Important traits for adulthood and citizenship are developed in tenth grade.

FRESHMEN

● FRESHMEN CLASS officers, Thomas Robb, Rebecca Fowler, Dona Mastrorocco and Joseph Sartoris admire and comment on symbolic flag of Latrobe High School.

The first of four years in high school has ended for the Class of 1962. As the ninth graders recalled the first moments of confusion when classes began in September and the days of hard study that followed, a whole year of academic, artistic and athletic challenge and achivement unfolded.

Joseph Sartoris was elected to preside over the frosh with Thomas Robb to assist in the duties of vice-president. Recording the minutes was Dona Mastrorocco, and Rebecca Fowler, acting as treasurer, collected class dues. Thomas O'Rourke represented the group in Student Council meetings and activities. Mr. Raymond V. Wild advised the freshmen students.

Beginning in the fall, the freshman dance on October 11, offered an opportunity to compare notes on first experiences and to get to know unfamiliar classmates. Dramatically inclined freshmen participated in the All Class play and on the committees necessary for production. The forensic season found many newcomers as first year debaters, extempers and speakers vied in preliminary and final competition.

Black and gold were chosen by the class as their colors and the rose as their flower. In the field of athletics the frosh exhibited promising strength on the football field, basketball and tennis courts, wrestling mats, track and golf course.

With these accomplishments now behind them, the yearlings anticipate three more years of high school life. New classes and encounters soon faded into familiar occurrences.

Lead paragraphs, the five w's, copyreader's symbols, headline charts—the student journalist came in contact with these and many other things during the school year.

So that the aspirant writer might be well acquainted with the fundamentals of good newspaper and yearbook, Mr. William Couchenour, the publications adviser, conducted a Journalism I class. Opened to sophomores, who wished to participate in it, these students learned such things as how to write features and methods of obtaining advertising. This course was a prerequisite for The High Post and Latrobean staff.

Members of the department wrote stories for the two school publications and for The Latrobe Bulletin. Others handled advertising, business and typing for them.

The school newspaper and annual were submitted to the Columbia and the National Scholastic Press Association Critical Services. Columbia's highest rating, "The Medalist," was awarded to the Latrobean.

Both the 1958 High Post and Latrobean copped Keystone Awards, the highest recognition given to student publications in Pennsylvania, and the newspaper received the Pitt Award.

of the Greater Latrobe Airport and the Ligonier Bicentennial Celebration. The band and majorettes each copped prizes at the latter.

Members of the band represented the school in state, county and district festivals. They earned a place in the "First Chair of America" yearbook, honoring the 200 top high school bands of the nation.

This year the Wildcat band was host to the Annual Russel Sipe Memorial Band Concert with students from 26 schools in Westmoreland County. Seventeen Latrobe band members played with this organization. Thirteen of the members also represented the school in the county orchestra.

Mr. Ernest Teichert, instrumental instructor for the grade schools, directed the high school orchestra. This organization played at school plays, oration finals and assemblies.

Many smaller instrumental ensembles from both band and orchestra as well as soloists played for various events.

VOCAL MUSIC

Music provided a common bond of interest to many of the students at Latrobe High. The largest organization in the school's musical program was the vocal music department.

Chorus members totaled 230 boys and girls representing all classes. Music director Ronald Shurie met bi-weekly with each of the four choruses. During this time, the students harmonized to standard and popular songs.

Seventy-five members of Girls' Chorus I, with their principal piano accompanist, Joanne Rose, met each Monday and Tuesday. On these days they prepared themselves for the time when they would don the black robe and orange tie worn by members of Girls' Chorus II.

Tuesday and Thursday, the sophomores, juniors and seniors belonging to the Girls' Chorus II gathered in the auditorium. The 104 girls were accompanied by Marcia Guzik. Highlighting the activities of this chorus was a journey to Aspinwall High School to participate in the yearly exchange assembly. Another annual event was singing familiar Christmas carols in the halls during the yuletide season.

The purpose of Boys' Chorus I was preparation for singing in an advanced group. Jane Buchanan accompanied the 20 freshmen.

Choruses Entertain At Spring Concert, Other School Affairs

This spring, on Eighth Grade Day, they helped to orient the incoming ninth graders to the extra-curricular activities of high school by rendering songs as part of the assembly program.

Completing the list of chorus groups was Boys' Chorus II. Thirty-two sophomores, juniors and seniors met every Tuesday and Thursday. Their accompanist was Leon Klingensmith.

At the end of each year tryouts were held for the juniors in the chorus. The best harmonizing four boys and four girls were then organized to form an octet for the next year. These students opened every assembly by singing the hymns "Holy, Holy, Holy" and "Come Thou Almighty King." Members of this year's group were Judith Carnahan, Clare Poerstel, Patricia Porembka and Rebecca Robinson. The boys included Eugene Augustine, Robert Martin, Frederick Reeping and Wayne Steving.

Many vocalists formed smaller groups during the year. They provided musical entertainment for various social events in Latrobe and sang in the county and state choruses.

Members participating in the activities of their respective chorus received a certificate of recognition on Awards Day.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Dependable Members Represent Organizations, Classes

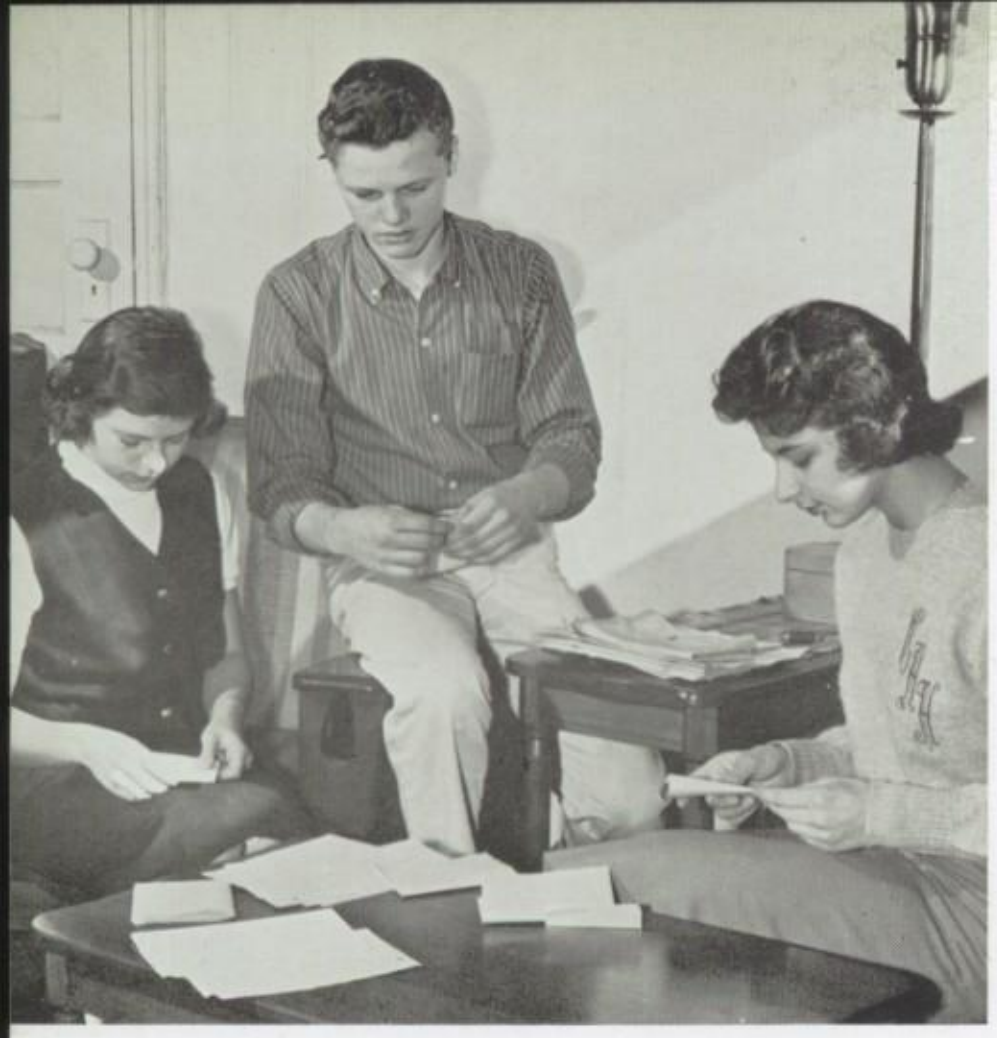
● STUDENT COUNCIL officers Jacqueline Dunlap, Patricia McCallen, Wayne Steving and Gerald Hengel make plans for the Student Council functions in the coming year.

Concluding its twenty-eighth term of duties was the Student Council, the principal service organization of the school.

Senior Wayne Steving acted as president of this group. Patricia McCallen performed vice-presidential tasks, while secretary Jacquelin Dunlap and treasurer Gerald Hengel recorded minutes and made financial reports, respectively. Mr. James R. Beatty directed the Council's activities. A representative from all home rooms, a delegate from each club and service group and an individual class representative comprised the Council membership.

The many services of the group included operation of the check room during social functions, ushering at Freshman and Eighth Grade Days, Christmas decorating of the auditorium, selling play tickets and conducting assembly devotions. Sale of refreshments at athletic events and operation of the microphones in assembly furnished other opportunities for the Council to render service.

Purchasing paintings for the school's corridors formed a unique duty for this organization. Pupils voted on favorite art works in home rooms and Council members brought the results to the ensuing meeting. This student selected and purchased art gallery is the only one of its kind in America.



● FOLDING PROGRAMS for the Sadie Hawkins dance holds the interest of committee members Edith Graham, Carl Myers and Caryl Hanna.

● PREPARING FOR a special assembly requires much time and carefully kept records discover Susan Matusak, Gary Nair and Patricia Blank.

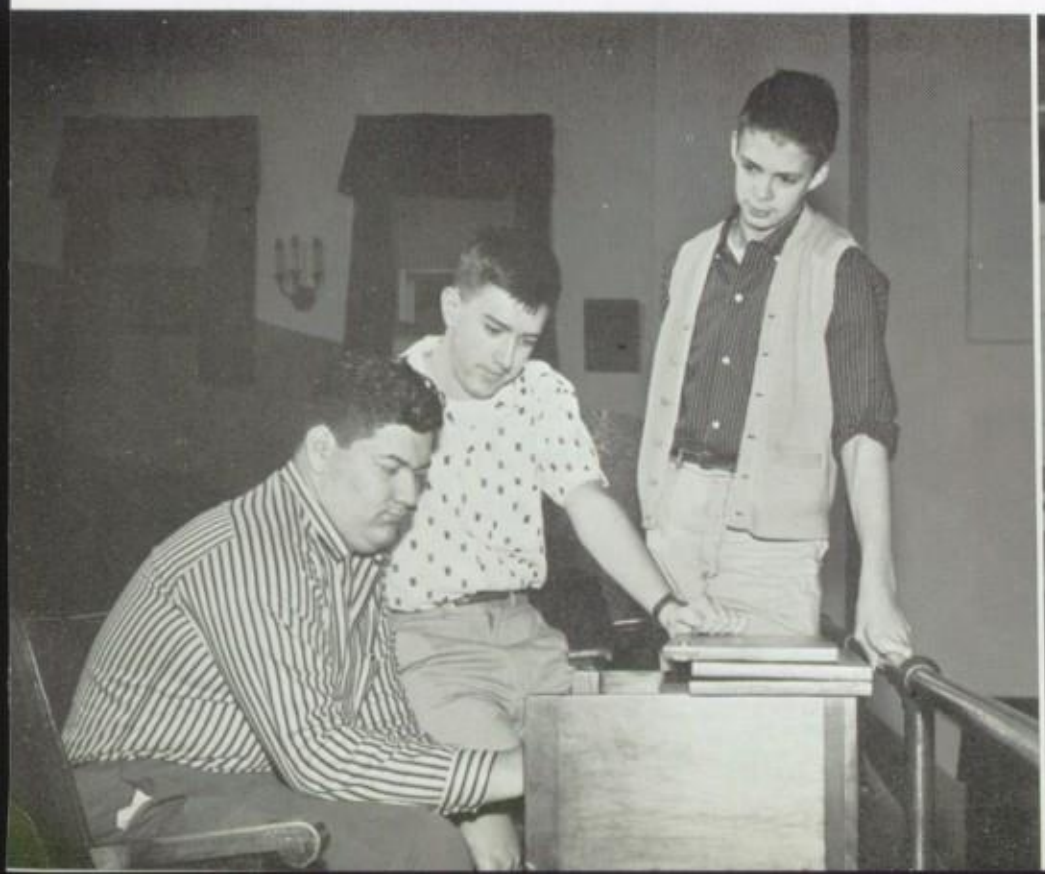
Service, Activities Occupy Extra Time Of Willing Workers

The Student Council conducted many school social events. Three dances, including the annual Sadie Hawkins affair, and eight special assemblies were Council sponsored. Professional entertainers and speakers lectured at these assemblies. Members checked misplaced objects and re-distributed them at the Lost and Found.

Officers and adviser attended the yearly Pennsylvania Student Council Convention in New Kensington. Information obtained at this clinic and imparted during a regular meeting proved beneficial to the representatives.

Members who earned eighteen points, or credits, by donating help to Council activities, received pins on Awards' Day. Brass, silver and gold pins signified the number of years of service.

● OPERATION OF the microphone for weekly assemblies and dramatic productions is explained to Daniel Kuhn and George Coulter by Peter Woitkowiak.



● WHILE ALICE Clemens sweeps up the Council Room floor, other housekeepers Joan Suda and Sandra Stahl dust the lamps and the tables.

● ANDREW DEL SORDO, Bernadette Krempasky, Mary Ann Krempasky, Marilyn Ewing, Donna Sapolsky, Edward Reeping and Victor Miller present a scene from the Roman play "Julius Caesar."

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Foreign Language Enthusiasts Learn, Appreciate Customs

● UNDER THE accompaniment of Jane Buchanan, Nancy Campbell, Richard Kloos and Francis Harvey rehearse the creed of the Junior Classical League.

From the Junior Classical League's corner of ancient Rome came the plans of a very eventful school year for Latin students.

Consul Andrew DelSordo and pro consuls Edward Reeping and Mary Ann Krempasky with the help of scriba Bernadette Krempasky, quaestor Donna Sapolsky and explorator Victor Miller conducted the initiation of 125 new members in October. Together with the alumna, this totaled 199 Latrobe members affiliated with both state and national organizations.

This year's editors of "Torch," the JCL newspaper, were Judith Cardelli, Patricia Blank and Lois Goodman. Nancy Schweer provided piano accompaniment for special occasions.

Amicitia or friendship week, the second week of December, brought the exchange of courtesies, especially on "Apple Day" when each teacher received apples from his pupils. A Christmas social, on the same day, was held at the Latrobe Roller Garden, where over 300 persons enjoyed an evening of skating and entertainment.

Approximately 180 Latin students attended the Junior Classical League banquet on January 28 at the Hotel Loyal. In a Roman palace atmosphere the guests, wearing togas and Roman garb, enjoyed a spaghetti dinner. For amusement, a cast of Latin I and II students presented "Julius Caesar."

During the Latin Festival in February, Latin I students created projects mainly pertaining to Roman life and civilization. At this time, certain students were chosen to represent the school to take scholastic examinations in Pittsburgh.

Several persons journeyed to Buhl Planetarium to view the Latin projects from the Pittsburgh area displayed there. This trip also included the sky show. In March, all Latin students took the Auxilium Latinium examinations. Several persons received medals or certificates as proof of their proficiency in the subject.

On May 15 and 16, the State JCL Convention representatives were hosted by North Hills High School in West View, Pittsburgh. "Julius Caesar" was again produced for the conventionees.

This summer, many JCL'ers will travel to Minnesota for the 1959 National JCL Convention. During this session in August, the Latrobe delegation will have charge of the program workshop.

These many educational, as well as enjoyable, activities have helped the classical students in their investigations to uphold a belief in an acquaintance with the civilization of Greece and Rome. It informed, so that they might understand and appraise the world of today, "which is indebted to the ancient civilization in its government, laws, literature, languages and arts."

STUDENT SERVICE—Members of the Student Service performed many duties including directing visitors and helping students each period of the day at assigned posts in the halls.

Under the direction of Mr. James R. Beatty, officers were elected at the beginning of the school term. Patrick Crain presided over the meetings held the fourth Monday of each month. Acing as vice-president was Arnold Eversole, while Peggy Koski served as secretary-treasurer of the organization. Regis Murphy represented the group at Student Council meetings.

Approximately 48 students spent at least five periods a week attending to their duties which included recording the name and number of open lockers, guiding visitors, helping students in the halls and turning lights off and on after the changing of classes.

The students served at strategic points on all three floors, in the health and music rooms and at the Lost and Found. Members of the organization were drawn from the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

POSTER CLUB—"Let's go, Latrobe! Win that game tonight!" were typical slogans of posters designed by students in the Poster Club.

The organization worked to create school spirit and interest in school activities. Meetings were conducted by Sylvia Spinelli, president. Other elected officers were Angela Colainne, vice-president; Carol Johnson, secretary-treasurer and Mildred Jetter, Student Council representative.

Cartooned posters were arranged in prominent corners of the corridors. Some of Walt Disney's famed characters cleverly came to life on posters as advertisements for three class plays, football and basketball games, wrestling matches and track meets. Student Council dances, the Spring Concert, Science Night, Education Week and campaign sales were other events promoted by the group.

The club enjoyed the artistic talents of volunteers from the junior and senior classes. Students earned letters for their efforts by producing ten posters for display during the year. Directing the service group as a first-year adviser was Mr. Edwin Withrow.

HIGH POST REPRESENTATIVES — "Extra, extra, read all about it," might well be the cry of the 37 High Post representatives.

Reporters were summoned by the call, "Will all High Post representatives please report to 118 at this time," on 13 Fridays of the school year. Members of the group received copies of the High Post and other necessary instructions. Following this, they departed to their respective home rooms to distribute the latest edition.

Students were elected by home room votes at the opening of school. The initial work began with the subscription campaign of the newspaper and yearbook. Representatives urged their home rooms to attain 100 per cent, and prizes were given to rooms achieving this goal.

Another job of the service group was to aid in the annual football contest, sponsored by the Journalism Department. The final duty consisted of distributing the Latrobean in home rooms on the last school day of the year.

Mr. William Couchenour, journalism adviser, was director of the High Post representatives.

FIRE PATROL—At the sound of the alarm, 12 members of the fire patrol move into action to maintain that fire drills are quickly conducted and are successfully carried out.

Serving as student leader was senior Edmund Pohland. The duties of the group included checking to see that all doors and windows were closed and all lights turned off. These volunteers had the authority to remove all unauthorized persons from the building and, in the event of an actual fire, to assist the Latrobe volunteer firemen.

The fire department required one drill a month for safety purposes. Fire extinguishers and alarms, located in the school corridors, were checked during the summer months. During one drill, a demonstration of the fire department's new ladder truck and other equipment was viewed by the student body and faculty.

In its eleventh year of formal organization in Latrobe High School, the fire patrol was composed of boys from all four classes. The group has always been conducted by Mr. Robert Cook.

SAFETY PATROL—"Please Stop" was a precautionary sign of the Safety Patrol during the school year giving warning to students, motorists and pedestrians alike.

Regardless of weather conditions, the seventeen Safety Patrol members were at their posts four times a day protecting and guarding against traffic hazards with promptness and dependability. Patrol boys also directed park-

Members, representing four classes in high school, were under the supervision of Mr. Frederick Halsall, who has sponsored the safety program for the past eighteen years. Mr. Lloyd Johnson also assisted in direction.

Officers were elected at the beginning of the school year. The organization voted Henry Troy captain, while Randall Stumpf assumed the post of lieutenant.

For a job well done, the volunteered efforts and services of the Safety Patrol members were rewarded with a free monthly movie pass by the American Legion.

LIBRARIANS—Books, everyone's true and faithful friends, were looked after this year by fifteen librarians.

Officers selected by this group were Donna Braden, president; Mary Jo Pagnanelli, vice president; Betty Mormack, secretary-treasurer and Diane Shearer, Student Council representative.

Under the supervision of Miss Carol Jenkins, head librarian, these student librarians checked books in and out, kept both books and magazines in order, typed and filed reference cards and, in general, managed the affairs of its operations.

Business meetings were held every first Monday of the month. Here the girls discussed methods of displaying materials more effectively and exchanged ideas about new and better bulletin board arrangements.

A careful check was kept on the Traveling Science Library which is sent to different schools for variations in scientific and mathematic books. The librarians contributed service to the school and while doing so, also gained valuable experience for future use.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY — Scholarship, leadership, character and service are the primary requisites set for admission into the National Honor Society.

Under the direction of Mr. James R. Beatty, ten seniors carried out the activities of the organization this year. Important undertakings included election of officers, installment of new chapters and initiation of members.

Stephen Berberich served as president, while Catherine Biller assisted as vice-president. Filling the position of secretary was Rebecca Robinson and Elizabeth Biller acted as treasurer. Sandra Harr represented the society on the Student Council.

Other members included Sylvia Spinelli, Ronald Tranquilla, Kathleen Mickinak, John Doherty and Patricia Patts. Candidates were selected from the upper fourth of their classes, with a maximum of 5 per cent of the junior class and 15 per cent of the senior class eligible for membership.

Students, voted in by faculty members, were initiated in a colorful and inspiring ceremony in the spring, with parents and fellow students in attendance.

QUILL AND SCROLL—Climaxing the year for journalism students was the election of members into the Quill and Scroll.

Gaining membership into the society is an honor to any young student. Scholastic achievement, as well as journalist ability, was required of the initiate. The student must be a junior or senior, ranking in the upper third of his class. A candidate must have had published three hundred column inches of copy and was required to have done superior work in some phase of journalism.

Officers of the Quill and Scroll were Sylvia Spinelli, president; Catherine Biller, vice-president, and Kathleen Mickinak, secretary. Serving as program chairman for the society was Joan Suda. Mr. William Couchenour, publications instructor, acted as adviser.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA — Members of the Future Teachers of America gained knowledge of the opportunities and responsibilities of the teaching profession and its important role in our democracy.

Conducting the affairs in its third year of organization were Ray Blair, president; Ellen Guter, vice-president; Edith Graham, secretary; Rosemary Lechman, Treasurer, and Patricia Bell, librarian. Miss Florence Gill was adviser to the group.

Many activities were carried on during the monthly meetings. Elementary and secondary teachers, notable persons and former FTA members provided valuable information about the teaching profession and the preparation that is necessary to enter it.

Panel discussions were held with student participation. This afforded the future teachers an opportunity to express their own views and opinions. The teacher assistant program was again carried out this year with effectiveness as well as an assembly.

Fifty-two members attended a dinner held in their honor at the conclusion of the school year.

BROADCASTING I, II — As the chimes rang out each Monday and Thursday during the home room period, the broadcasting class brought the latest news to the entire student body.

Broadcasting II consisted of 16 students, both juniors and seniors, under the direction of Miss Mary Louise McBride. Members of this class proved to be a service to the school. The broadcasters informed the students about all the latest news and sports activities in and around the halls of Latrobe High School.

News editor for the group was Connie Smith and Gerald Hengel served as sports editor. Patricia Bell was production manager while Timothy Schwartz acted as technician.

During the year, the Broadcasting II class met twice each week. These sessions aided the pupils by giving them advanced instructions of how to prepare and deliver broadcasts. Many students find that a course of broadcasting in high school may benefit those who plan to enter the field in future years. The practice of broadcasting also taught clear and precise pronunciation of words and sentences.

"Christmas Recaptured" was the annual Yuletide broadcasting play. This production was given to the student body at Christmas time and was also presented to the public over radio station WTRA.

In order to attain membership in Broadcasting II, 33 aspirants, composing two classes, were instructed about the fundamental procedures of broadcasting during the school term.

Seventeen juniors met once each week during the year to prepare for positions on the second year staff. Another class composed of 16 sophomores also met weekly. Both sessions were taught by Miss McBride, faculty adviser.

With the purpose of understanding the basic principles of broadcasting, the classes learned how to prepare and deliver a broadcast. During the course of the year, the trainees were taught the standard radio hand signals.

To aid them with their speaking, students recorded their voices on a tape recorder. Actual announcing and writing advertisements for school dances and plays were included in their endeavors.

USHERS—By offering their time at school events, the ushers rendered many important services to the school.

These 26 girls, directed by Miss Catherine Netzlof, folded programs, took tickets, handed out programs and seated people during plays, contests, concerts and athletic events. Only juniors and seniors were eligible for membership in the Ushers' Club.

Two senior head ushers, Mary Ann Kintz and Susanna Meslovich, had direction of the main floor and balcony, respectively. In charge of ticket taking were Joan Hajas, Judith Hoyle, Enola Stephenson, Joan Tobias, Beverly Horner and Juanita Robl. Margaret Toner served outside in the Lost and Found.

From a number of volunteers, girls were selected for usher work on the basis of dependability, promptness and sense of responsibility. While on duty, the girls wore all-white dresses.

On Awards' Day, any worker satisfactorily donating two years of ushering received a letter. A new group was then selected to replace the graduating seniors during the activities of Commencement.

READERS' CLUB—"Once upon a time in a far away land, lived a beautiful princess," was a familiar phrase often heard at the Latrobe Hospital each Saturday.

Such stories were read by members of the Readers' Club, which was in its third year of organization. Membership was composed of approximately 77 girls with a purpose to entertain the children in the hospital.

From 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoons, three or four girls visited the local hospital to read many types of stories and to play games with the youngsters, ranging from the age of one through ten. Golden Story Books, classic sagas, Donald Duck stories, fairy tales, Uncle Wiggely games and Candy Land were among the variety of games and books used to entertain the patients.

The Readers' Club provided experience for girls interested in nursing as a career. The organization initially offered a scholarship to a deserving senior member interested in nursing.

Along with being excellent pre-nursing training, the girls were aiding the community and also were gaining satisfaction.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB—The Modern Language Club organized to better acquaint French and Spanish students with the customs and mores of the countries they studied.

Functioning under the guidance of Miss Evelyn Baxter, faculty adviser, members elected officers in January to conduct meetings during the year. All members attended the affair, held at the Latrobe Community Club, in costumes.

A picnic highlighted activities of the language students, where a baseball game was played between the French and Spanish pupils.

MUSIC ROOM ATTENDANTS—Setting up the stage for the school's musical organizations, running errands, sorting music and keeping the music room in order busied 13 music room attendants throughout the year.

Six seniors, six juniors and one sophomore aided Mr. Ronald Shurie, music director of Latrobe High, and assumed the responsibility of the music room in his absence. The room was opened throughout the day.

Music students from the three classes, who volunteered their services at the beginning of the school year, were selected to assist during certain periods of the week. In addition to their regular assigned duties, they were called in to help with additional music work. One of their extra duties was greeting and guiding visitors of the music department.

Other services they rendered were distributing and filing music, compiling rosters and doing clerical work. Besides aiding Mr. Shurie and Mr. Ernest Teichert, orchestra leader, with music business, these students gained valuable experience for themselves in responsibility, as well as music.

DRAMATICS

Annual Student Productions Encourage Artistic Talents

Footlights, greasepaint and glitter characterized the dramatic productions presented throughout the school year.

Initiating the dramatic season was the All Class play, "Strictly Formal." Sixteen students from the four classes enacted the comedy, while 54 committee workers and four committee chairmen helped to assure the success of the performance.

Timothy Schwartz served as student director for the initial dramatic production. Acting as the assistant director was Susan Matusak. The action of the three-act play was set in a small mid-western town.

The play revolved around nine active teenagers and their attempts to get bids for the Junior-Senior Prom. Unusual events occurred when a slick feminine cousin from the city paid the little town a visit. A prize flower show entered the plot as a complication. The ending was happy, although in doubt for some time.

Lights dimmed and a hush fell over the audience as the dramatic presentation "Annie Get Your Gun" was performed by the Junior Class.

Nineteen cast members, extras and committee members participated in the event. Susan Matusak acted as student director for the play. Adapted from the Broadway play of the same name, this production featured musical numbers.

Set in mid-western Ohio in the early twentieth century, the story concerned the efforts of Annie Oakley to entrance Frank Butler into marrying her. The carnival background of a wild west show furnished the atmosphere.

Annie got into many complicated situations when she joined a wild west show to be near Frank. "The Girl That I Marry," "Doin a What Comes Naturally" and "Falling in Love" were the musical selections sung during the performance. The play was dotted with bits of humor, romance, human interest and musical selections.

As the final presentation of the year, the Class of 1959 presented "The Thread That Runs So True."

Thirty seniors captured roles in the production, while other members served on various committees. Helen Kalokerinos served as the student director for the Senior Class presentation.

The scene opened on the Lonesome Valley Rural School in the Kentucky mountains. The school was a dilapidated one room building. It was in an area where poor farmers and coal miners skimped for a livelihood. Since the school board considered schooling a lot of nonsense and a playful diversion from work, the school had been closed for two years.

Jesse Stuart, preparing for his senior year at Landsburgh High School, persuaded the board to open the school in his longing to teach the uneducated people of the valley.

Each of the productions was directed by Mr. Harry Craig, English III instructor.

FORENSICS

All Contestants Vie For Awards In Speech Tournaments

Four speaking contests composed this year's forensic season during February and March with all four classes in competition.

In the annual Rotary Club Oratorical Contest, the first prize was won by Stephen Berberich for his oration "Rivers of Blood." Kathy Rodkey took second prize for "A Modern Fable." The third honors was gained by Jerry Limber with the oration "Man's Deadly Bone," while Sandra Harr received honorable mention honors. Her oration was entitled "Remember the Golden Rule." The other finalists were Carol Benford, Ray Blair, Sylvia Spinelli and Henry Rodgers.

Winner of the Civic Club debate was the affirmative team of Sylvia Spinelli and Ray Blair. They upheld the idea, "Resolved: That the United States will adopt the essential features of the British system of education." They were opposed by the negative team of Phyllis Jacobs and Carl Frederick.

"Trends in Education" was the general topic of the Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. Grand prize winner was Frank Townsend, senior. Copping honors for their respective classes were Phyllis Jacobs, Karen Massena and Michael Rizzo. Other participants in the contest were Samuel Lawson, Joyce Check, Sandra Stahl and Robert Pocket.

In competition for prizes in the Woman's Club Contest, Rebecca Robinson won the Shakespearian reading honors, while Mildred Jetter and Kathryn Rodkey received honors in poetry reading and declamations, respectively. Also participating in the contest were Steven Van Norden, Dale Harris and Amy Mooney.

Football Provides Opportunity To Show Abilities, Teamwork

Displaying fine team spirit and improved play as the season progressed, the Latrobe High varsity football squad finished the season with a four win, five loss record.

Under the tutorship of Mr. Charles Findley, the Wildcats began the season with few experienced players. As games were played the team showed improvement.

Hosting Schenley in their opening game, the Orange and Black gridders were victorious 13-0. After a scoreless first half the locals marched for two touchdowns in the final two periods to blank the visitors. The next four games were disaster for the Cats. They were defeated 19-0 by the Derry Area Trojans. Two of the scores came as a result of fumbles, and a bad pass from center on fourth down accounted for the other touchdown.

Following this game, the Wildcats absorbed three straight "AA" losses. The first one came at the hands of the Penn Hills Indians by a score of 34-6. The only Latrobe score came in the final period after Penn had taken a 34 point lead. In their fourth game of the season Latrobe was shut out by Wilkinsburg 21-0. The Cats were able to hold the Tigers for the first quarter, but Wilkinsburg broke loose in the second period and went on to win the game and hand Latrobe its third defeat.

Jeannette was the next opponent, and they were victorious over the Wildcats 25-6. Latrobe took a 6-0 lead when a Jeannette player fumbled the ball and Joe Zink caught it in mid air and went 27 yards to paydirt. The Jays came right back, though, to tie the score at 6-6. Then in the second half Jeannette rambled for 19 points for the win. Latrobe stepped back into the winners aisle the following week as they drubbed the Hurst Hurricanes 20-0. The Cats were in command all the way and were easily victorious.

Continuing their comeback play the gridders polished off Connellsville 35-7 for their third triumph of the season. Once again the Cats drew first blood. They scored twice in the second quarter and twice in the third period before the Cokers made their initial score.

a 28-7 loss at the hands of Greensburg. The following week, in the final game of the season, the locals chalked up a win over New Kensington, by a 20-13 score. The winning tally came with only three minutes remaining in the game.

At the end of the season, 20 gridders were awarded letters. Seniors capturing monograms were Wayne Adams, Donald Smolleck, Alan Ludwig, Donald Kessler, Larry Mt. Joy, James Taylor, Kenneth Myers, John Sanderson, Henry Rodgers and Michael Zappone. Junior lettermen were Patrick Crain, James Dumas, Anthony Gebecki, Richard Lazur, Thomas McKelvey, Wayne Sulkey, Wesley Thomas, John Zabcar and Joseph Zink. James Ruffner was the only sophomore letter winner.

Two Latrobe gridders, both of them linemen, were named to the Westmoreland County "AA" football squad. Garnering starting positions on the first team were end Tony Gebicki and tackle Joe Zink, the only juniors chosen among the top eleven. Earning honorable mention were Wildcat backs Jim Taylor and Pat Crain and guard Kenny Myers.

Hempfield, the "AA" champion this year, and Jeannette, the runner-up, dominated the first team selections as each secured three positions. Two of the remaining spots were picked up by Greensburg, while Monessen completed the listing.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

Coaches, Team Work Together To Attain Good Results

Freshmen gridders emerged from their 1958 football campaign with a one win, two loss, one tie record.

The Wildkittens entered their season with the smallest squad ever to report for gridiron drills. However, they proved this no handicap as they defeated a strong Derry team 7-0 in the opening encounter.

Facing the yearling crew in the second test was the Hempfield team. The Spartans proved too much for the locals, as they handed an 18-6 decision to the frosh. Following this defeat, the first year men perked up in time to tie with the Greensburg junior-high eleven, 7-7. Jeannette was the final encounter, which ended in a 35-7 victory for the opponents.

With this final game, the yearlings, under the leadership of Mr. Ray V. Wild and Mr. David Dunn, completed an introductory season which provided much experience for the future varsity representatives.

CROSS COUNTRY — TRACK

Garnering several trophies and compiling a 3-1 dual meet record, the Wildcat Cross-Country squad completed one of their most successful seasons this year.

In dual competition, the harriers downed Penn Hills, 17-38, Uniontown, 20-35, and Wilkinsburg, 15-40. Connellsville administered the only defeat by a close 27-28 score.

At the Central Catholic Invitational, three Wildcats won individual trophies as the team copped the third-place cup. Finishing third in the WPIAL meet, the runners, coached by Mr. Richard Braun, went on to take sixth in the PIAA contest.

Completing another successful season, the Wildcat Track and Field Squad, coached by Mr. Richard Braun, recently ended their 1959 campaign.

The thinclads played to a full schedule of invitational and dual meets, competing against Penn Hills, Wilkinsburg, Derry Area, Greensburg and Connellsville.

In invitational play, the Cats attended the Tri-State Indoor Meet, the Canonsburg Relays, the WPIAL Relays and the Uniontown Invitational. Pole-vaulter Ron Weiers tied for first in the Tri-State affair. Latrobe also hosted the Westmoreland County Track Meet this year.

Injuries Hamper Local Cagemen's Bid For Section Honors

Latrobe High's varsity basketball squad compiled a season's record of 12 victories and ten defeats.

Under the tutelage of Coach Ralph Forquer, the Wildcats opened their exhibition play with a win over rival Derry Area 67-42. The Cats sufered two defeats of the campaign at the hands of Har-Brack and Penn Hills. Making a comeback the cagers swept through their final non-league games without a loss by downing Indiana, Wilkinsburg and a repeat victory over Derry.

In opening Section 2-A play, the Connellsville Cokers handed Latrobe an upset loss in an overtime contest 53-49. A decisive 85-47 victory was recorded over Penn Joint, followed by a loss to Uniontown. The local quintet evened their standings in section competition by trouncing the Greensburg Lions 64-51. Norwin won over the Wildcats, but the cagers retaliated with a win over Jeannette. The Spartans of Hempfield defeated the Latrobe team in their second overtime loss of the year.

In the second half of league play, the Latrobe team revenged the previous loss to Connellsville and registered a second victory over Penn Joint 71-63. After winning these two contests, the Cats absorbed losses from Uniontown and Greensburg. The Wildcat five suffered a second loss to Norwin 88 to 70, then suffered another defeat to Hempfield 66-61.

In the Westmoreland County Tournament, Latrobe was upset by Penn Joint in the quarterfinal game 46-45. Hempfield reigned as tournament champs, as they beat Norwin in the finals.

Losing the services of two experienced performers in Dave Berkmyre and Dave McCracken, Coach Ralph Forquer's chances for a section championship faded. Both boys received leg injuries early in the season and did not return for further action.

Wildcat cagers receiving special recognition were Danny Smith, Fred Reeping and Jack Kells, seniors. Danny Smith was named to the first team in Section II; Fred Reeping and Jack Kells garnered second team positions.

Five seniors, two juniors and a sophomore won letters or certificates. David Berkmyre, John Kells, David McCracken, Fred Reeping and Daniel Smith were the seniors honored. Juniors earning letters were Richard Lazur and Richard Markovich. Also receiving a monogram was sophomore James Ruffner.

Four of the graduating cagers received grant-in-aid scholarships. Dave Berkmyre and Fred Reeping have enrolled at St. Vincent College. Westminster College has been the choice of Jack Kells, and Danny Smith has elected to take a bid from the College of Steubenville.

With Coach John Monchak directing the Latrobe High School junior varsity, the understudies compiled a 9 win 12 loss record.

This marks the first season for Mr. Monchak as junior varsity coach. He replaced Mr. Richard Braun, who retired from the basketball coaching ranks last season.

During the exhibition play, the Wildcat reserves handed a single defeat to Derry Area, while the Somerset junior varsity was downed twice. Losses were recorded by Derry Area, Har-Brack, Penn and Indiana. In section action, the varsity understudies registered double wins over Jeannette, while Connellsville, Greensburg, Uniontown and Norwin were defeated once. Penn Jt. and Hempfield beat the locals twice. Single losses were handed to the Cats by Connellsville, Greensburg, Uniontown and Norwin.

By recording a successful 14-2 record, the Latrobe High School freshmen, under the tutelage of Coach Ray V. Wild, tied with Norwin for the Section IV title.

Exhibition play consisted of two games for the yearlings. Ligonier was met twice and defeated both times. Against sectional opponents the freshmen gained double wins over South Greensburg, Sewickley Township, Greensburg, Penn Joint and Jeannette. Norwin and Southwest Greensburg split their series with the Wildkittens.

Valuable experience was gained by the freshmen in these games, which will prove worthwhile in future years.

Turning in a successful season, the Wildcat wrestlers coached by Mr. Creed Westfall, compiled a nine-win, three-loss record.

The grapplers scored in dual match decisions over Wilkinsburg, Jeannette, Hempfield, Indiana, Uniontown, Greensburg and Kittanning, the latter two teams twice. Teams the local matmen bowed to were Norwin, Johnstown and Waynesburg. Each of these squads went undefeated for their seasons. Three new teams were added to the schedule. They included Kittanning, Waynesburg and Johnstown.

Highlighting the campaign was the capturing of the Westmoreland County championship. Gathering 47 points, the Latrobe team edged Norwin by three points. Two first places went to the Wildcats with Lionel Frowen and Ed Pohland winning the 95 and 185 pound classes, respectively.

In the WPIAL Section II Tournament, the matmen finished in third place. They emerged with two representatives for WPIAL competition, Kevin Hughes and Ed Pohland. The latter went on to capture the crown in the 185 pound

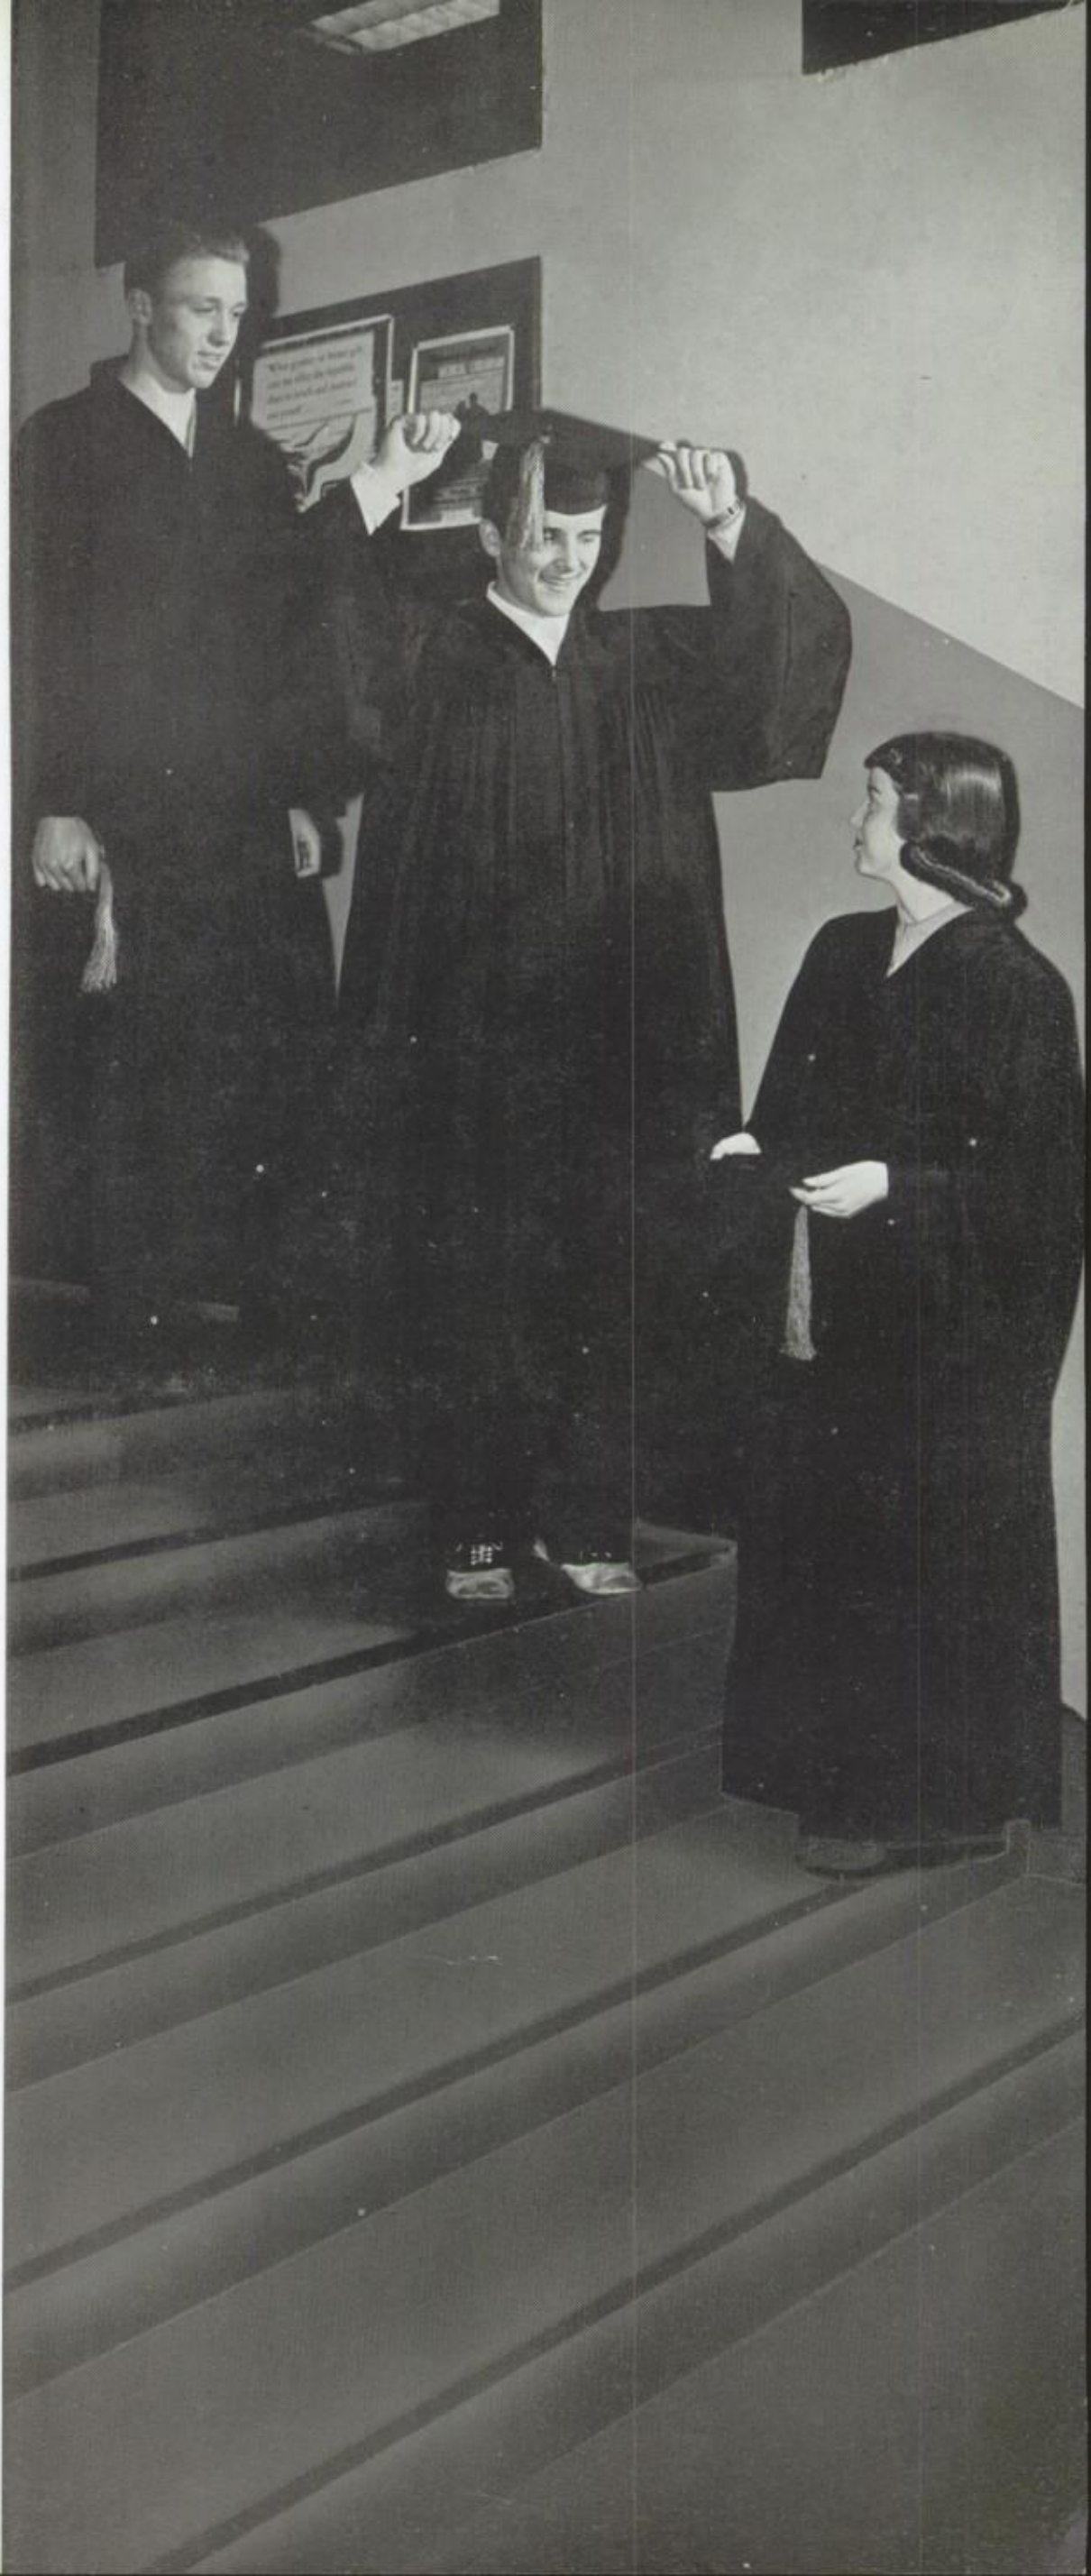
MEMORIES

Once again the doors of four years of school activities close for the summer. Students resound with pleasure as they leave for the summer vacation.

Behind the doors are packed memories of the prom, feelings of being a freshman, of reciting in P. O. D. Class, of jumping for the ball in gym, of cheering at the ball games, of clapping loudly at plays and concerts. Boarded up, too, are the days when plans for the future were made, when college pamphlets were read and when uncertainty reigned.

Now holding breath just a little, the big step is attempted by graduating students. That once far away Future is now!

Unlocked next year, this door will again stimulate more hopes and dreams and will strengthen the hinges of knowledge and power.



● IN COMMENCEMENT robes, Fred Reeping, Alan Ludwig and Patricia Aikens prepare for graduation.

WORLD WITHOUT METAL?

Our world without metal would be truly primitive, with no tall buildings, no automobiles, no airplanes, no refrigerators or furnaces. Even simple utensils and tools like pots and pans and table knives would be unknown. We would probably still be living in the Stone Age.

Metal is a prime ingredient of the thousands of things, both large and small, that make our lives easier. Things non-metallic like food, clothing and even plastics are produced with metal tools.

As one of our nation's leading producers of tool and special alloy steels, Vanadium-Alloys Steel Company is playing a vital role in the development of new and better alloys for industry and for the coming Space Age. A good example of this is the new vacuum melting furnace pictured above. Our furnace, which is the latest and finest of its type anywhere, makes possible the production of better metals for American industry.

We at Vanadium-Alloys are proud to share in our nation's progress, for history has shown us that better metals mean a better life for everyone, everywhere.

PEARCE
BLANKETS

Since 1805 when the Pearce Blanket Mill was founded, the Pearce name has stood for quality blankets. Nothing but 100% fine select wool goes into their manufacture. Craftsmen trained in the Pearce tradition fabricate the finest of new wools into Pearce Blankets. Modern styling is incorporated in the designing of Pearce Blankets so as to make them highly decorative as well as durable and economical. Special treatment assures a deep luxurious nap which gives extra warmth at no increase in weight. AND NOW PEARCE BLANKETS ARE PERMANENTLY MOTH-PROOFED to insure their normal and useful life against moth damage.
